

NEW BILL ABOLISHES TAXES ON MILLS

INCREASE TELEPHONE RATES HERE Expect Measure Will Be Blocked

NEW SCHEDULE IS LESS THAN COMPANY ASKED

Single Party Business Phone Rate Boosted to $5.50 Per Month
DISALLOW COMPANY CLAIM
Commission's New Schedule Allows 4 Per Cent for Depreciation Reserve

Increases in telephone rates in Appleton were authorized on Thursday by the Wisconsin railroad commission, according to information received here Friday morning. The increases are less than asked for by the company but the complete schedule has not been made public. No official information concerning the new rates has been received at the local office of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., it was said Friday morning. No date was announced for making the new rates effective.

Increases in rates were authorized at the same time at Janesville, Hudson, Lima Center and South Milwaukee. No information was received here concerning increases at Green Bay for which a higher schedule also was requested.

SI INCREASE
Under the new schedule the rate for one party business phones will be $5.00 a month, as compared with $4.50 the present rate. The company requested a rate of $7 a month for that type of service.

The one party telephone rate was fixed at $2.75 a month, an increase of 25 cents a month over the present rate and 25 cents less than the $3 rate requested by the telephone company.

No announcement was made by the commission on other increases except that "other changes are in some what the same proportion."

HIGHER AT JANEVILLE
At Janesville the rate for one party business phones was fixed at $6 a month and for the one party residence phone at $3 a month.

Following are the increases requested by the telephone company in the application filed with the railroad commission on Aug. 6, 1924.

One party business phone, from $4.50 to $7.
Two party business phone, from $3.50 to $6.
One party residence phone, from $2.50 to $3.
Two party residence phone, from $2 to $2.50.
Four party residence phone, from $1.75 to $2.

It was explained when the application was made that the larger increases would be asked from consumers who made the largest use of the telephone. Business houses, because of their heavy demands on telephone service, were asked to pay the largest part of the increase.

ASKED 7.50 PER CENT
The company asked a rate which would provide a return of 7.50 per cent of its capital investment of $300,000. In order to do this it was necessary to increase the revenue here by $43,920. The old rates earn a return of only 2 per cent on the investment, it was stated.

There was some dispute over some of the factors which the company used in determining its values and earnings and a public hearing was held here on Oct. 14 to consider the matter. After an all day session the commission adjourned to Madison and a long study of the telephone company's records was made.

In announcing its decision, the railroad commission made the following observations concerning the telephone company's application:

"The rates which the company asked (Turn to Page 18 Column 2)"

"Thou Shalt" Is Code In Guthrie Decalogue

New York — A positive version of the ten commandments in which "thou shalt" is substituted for "thou shalt not" has been written by the Rev. Dr. Norman Guthrie, Episcopal minister. His church, St. Mark's in the Bowdoin, has been the scene of ritual dancing by barefooted girls of which Bishop Manning disapproved.

Dr. Guthrie's decalogue is 3,000 words long. It is designed, he says, to meet the requirements of modern scientific and spiritual development.

"Thou shalt honor worship and realize thy union with the one infinite and transcendent God that unifies the universe," says Dr. Guthrie's code.

"Thou shalt reverently recognize and acknowledge that one, in all forms, however backward and repugnant they may be to thee, if those forms are to others sincerely acceptable and the only symbols intellectually and emotionally effective for thy fellowmen."

Subscribers to this decalogue would not only be permitted to worship

PULLMAN RATE PROBLEM WILL CAUSE TROUBLE

Unless Surcharge Question Is Settled Soon It Will Bob Up Again

SENATE PASSES BILL Coolidge Attitude Regarded as Precluding Measure's Becoming Law

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co. Washington, D. C.—The mortality rate on pending legislation as the present session draws to a close is high but there's one measure which if not finally enacted this session will rise to plague congress for some time to come.

It is the demand that the surcharges on Pullman tickets be eliminated.

The proposal was rejected by the committee on interstate commerce in the house of representatives but the senate tacked it on an appropriation bill and passed it. The varying viewpoints and fundamental principles involved in the controversy are interesting.

The objections are these:
1. Congress has delegated the rate making function to the interstate commerce commission and should not attempt by legislation to make rates.
2. The surcharge is not a war tax as the latter was eliminated by the last revenue act thus making transportation cheaper.

3. The people who ride in coaches should be the first to benefit.
4. If congress is to assume the rate making power, then freight rates should be tackled ahead of passenger rates.

ROADS ARE EXTRA WAGANT
The proponents of the measure list these arguments:
1. The railroads are extravagantly operated and can afford to reduce rates but the interstate commerce commission hasn't taken effective steps to reveal that inefficiency. The reduction on Pullman surcharges, it is contended, would stimulate the railroads to more economical operation in other directions.

2. The earning clause of the transportation act permits the roads to earn up to a certain per cent and while some strong roads are doing it the weaker ones aren't earning the limited return.

The friends of the new legislation say that if the interstate commerce commission doesn't equalize these inequalities congress should do it.

The burden on the travelling public has been great, especially in the sales cost of commercial concerns who kept men on the road. The public, therefore, is supposed to be paying the bill in the higher costs of certain articles sold "on the road."

PRECLUDES PASSAGE
President Coolidge's opinion on rate making as disclosed in the past are regarded as of such a positive nature as to preclude the possibility of the proposed repeal in surcharges becoming a law. It is said to be strongly enough opposed to veto the appropriation bill in question should it come to him with such a change in it.

A letter accompanying the money stolen from the Salvation Army here 18 years ago by a girl passing the tambourine at a street meeting has been returned Friday.

A letter accompanying the money said that the girl "happened to be out of money at the time and needed 35 cents very badly to pay a minor repair bill on my bicycle. I never had the courage until tonight to make this matter right," said the letter which bore an Illinois postmark. "I am sending $1 which is 35 cents plus 10 per cent interest for 18 years."

MANY DEAD WHEN RICH MEXICAN MINE BURNS
Mexico City, Mex.—The rich mine La Victoria in San Andres de la Sierra in the State of Durango, has been destroyed by fire, causing the death of numerous miners. It is announced in press dispatches from Durango Friday.

The dispatches are rather confusing as to whether the mining town or the mine is burning. The number of deaths is not given but the messages say the authorities have been sending food for numerous destitute families.

SEE COOLIDGE APPROVAL FOR POSTAL RAISE

Pay Increase Bill Will Provide $300 More Annually for Employees

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The fate of the postal pay and rate increase bill now rests with President Coolidge, the senate having joined the house in approving the conference report virtually substituting the house bill for the measure previously twice approved by the senate.

Administration leaders believe the bill will receive the president's approval.

Effective as of Jan. 1 this year, postal employees would receive an average salary increase of about $300 annually under the bill, which by new postal rates to go into effect Apr. 15 next, would raise about $60,000,000 of the $85,000,000 required for the pay advance.

As a under the bill carries a corrupt practices act strictly limiting campaign expenditures of congressional candidates as recommended by the senate campaign funds committee.

The bill provides for hearings during the summer by a joint congressional committee which is to submit recommendations with a view to revision of rates at the next session.

Payment of the retroactive salary increases would be authorized in an amendment to the pending deficiency appropriation bill for which representative Madden, Republican, Illinois, obtained house approval Thursday.

ABBIE IS ABLE TO SAVE ROCKEFELLER SAYS OF DAUGHTER

New York — A bride and groom-to-be, Abbie Rockefeller and David M. Milton, Jr. are hunting a modest apartment somewhere near Park Avenue and Sixtieth St. but not on the avenue itself because rents are too expensive there for the grand daughter of the richest man in the world and her lawyer sweetheart.

The couple are going to live within Milton's modest income, and Abby will be well able to do all of that, her father John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Thursday said through a spokesman, because he had trained his daughter and her brothers to know the value of money.

While she was being envied as one of the richest youngsters in the world, Miss Abby, aged 7, had exactly ten cents a week which she might squander. Her total allowance was thirty cents but she was taught to save ten cents and put the other nine in the Sunday school collection plate.

THREE ARE LOST IN ST. PAUL FIRE

Damage Is Estimated at More Than $250,000 After Blaze Subsides

By Associated Press
St. Paul, Minn.—More than $250,000 loss was suffered early Friday when fire started in the fireproof building in the heart of the business district here. Three persons were unaccounted for, and fire officials were making a check to determine their fate.

Three persons were rescued from the burning building which was one of the older structures in the business section.

At 4:30 A. M. the structure was still burning but fire fighters had the blaze sufficiently under control to prevent it from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Eight below zero weather and a stiff wind hampered firemen. A jewelry store, a hat shop, a photographer's studio and several offices in the building were destroyed. An adjoining theater had several shops suffered heavy water damage.

Origin of the fire is undetermined. The persons unaccounted for are musicians, a man and two women, whose names are unknown.

Late Thursday night fire did $250,000 damage to the St. Paul Foundry Co., which was extinguished only a few hours before Friday morning's blaze.

The Weather

WEATHER FOR WISCONSIN
Fair tonight followed by increasing cloudiness Saturday, probably with snow in north portion. Not so cold tonight. Considerably higher temperature Saturday.

GENERAL WEATHER

The cold wave is moving slowly having been centered Friday morning over the lower Missouri and central Mississippi valleys. Zero temperature extends over the Dakotas, northern Iowa and central and lower Michigan, with freezing temperatures to the Gulf coast. A slow rise is setting in over Montana, however, as the high pressure which is causing the cold wave moves westward. Southern winds will set in here and combined with the northwest reductions will cause a rise in temperature to near over the week end with the weather becoming somewhat unsettled.

COMMON LAW COUPLE PARTED BY DIVORCE

Wife Asks for Separation Because Husband Had Deserted Her

The common law marriage of Bert Smith and Erma Wilcox was dissolved by a decree of a divorce granted Thursday afternoon by County Judge Fred V. Heinemann, acting municipal judge.

The couple had agreed to become husband and wife by contract which was entered into on Mar. 17, 1914, in Appleton. It was the first year of the operation of the common law and saw the union of many couples by contract rather than by civil or religious ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith lived together for six years. On May 17, 1920, when they were living in Madison, the husband deserted the woman and in doing so said that he would never come back to live with her again, according to Mrs. Smith's complaint. He has not been heard from since, and efforts of the authorities to locate him were unsuccessful. Since there are no children of this union, Mrs. Smith was given permission to resume her maiden name, Miss Erma Wilcox.

ROOF FIRES CALL OUT FIRE FIGHTERS

Four runs were made by the Appleton fire department on Thursday, in addition to the morning run previously reported. Two of the runs were to roof fires caused by sparks from chimneys, and one of these necessitated two runs when a blaze broke out afresh in another part of the roof.

The roof fires were at the homes of Albert Miller, 610 W. Atlantic-st., at 1 o'clock, and Louis Karls, 1225 W. Spencer-st., at 4:30 in the afternoon. A second run was made to the latter residence a half hour after the first alarm. Chemicals were used to extinguish both fires.

An alarm was sounded at 11:40 in the evening from the home of George Gloudemans, 1004 W. Commercial-st., where smoke had filled the rooms. No damage was caused.

examinations may be handled more rapidly and more persons accommodated.

Dr. Sylvia Stuessey, who conducted the two free clinics here, will conduct the third. Assisting her will be Miss Whipple and Miss Marie Klein, county nurse. Mrs. Gochbauer is general chairman.

Dr. Stuessey does not prescribe, although she urges consultation with a physician when it is necessary. In formation on the feeding and care of the child is given to the mothers. This clinic is for infants and children of pre-school age.

GLEE CLUB GOES BIG IN SPITE OF MANY DIFFICULTIES

Waterman Forced to Leave Club but McKee "Carries On" for Him

Rather weary after the late concerts later dates, and the many weary miles spent on trains, the Lawrence glee club returned Thursday from its northern trip. The itinerary included ten towns in northern Wisconsin and Michigan.

Success on this trip was won in spite of difficulty, according to reports for on the second day out, while appearing in Marshfield on Feb. 17, Dean Carl J. Waterman, director of the club, was called home to Kilbourn by the death of his mother at the home of Mrs. Minnie Waterman, her daughter-in-law. Almost simultaneously news was received of the birth of a son in Appleton.

These happenings threatened to leave the club stranded without a leader but Prof. Carl McKee of the Conservatory faculty hurried to the rescue. He rehearsed the club once under Dean Waterman's supervision before the dean left for Kilbourn, and then took charge of the remaining concerts until the dean could rejoin them. Even though Prof. McKee had not even heard the songs of the club before he rushed to Marshfield, the club was successful under his direction at Wausau and Antigo the two following evenings.

After his mother's funeral, Prof. Waterman came here to see his son. He rejoined the club at Rhinelander. According to newspaper reviews in the towns in which the club appeared, the concerts were equal to the standard set by former Lawrence glee clubs.

The tour ended in Green Bay Wednesday night. The first home concert is scheduled for March 10 and the longer southern trip of the club will begin March 27.

ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR DEDICATION OF CHURCH

Miss Viroqua Vockrodt of St. John Lutheran church at Oshkosh and the Rev. J. Richard Olson, pastor of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church at New London, are to sing a duet at the dedicatory services of Trinity English Lutheran church Sunday, March 8. The Rev. William C. Drahn, pastor of St. John church, also has been invited to take part in the dedication.

A college night is planned for Tuesday, March 10, and Thursday, March 12, will be community night. The Rev. F. L. Schreckenberg is pastor of the congregation.

BLACKHAWKS PREPARING PROGRAM FOR TRACK MEET

The athletic committee of the Black hawk club is preparing a track and field meet for club members to be held in the near future and several boys have already entered. The boys will be divided into two classes, class A consisting of boys weighing 100 pounds or over and class B includes boys under 100 pounds. No entrant will be allowed to compete in more than five events. The program consists of the 20 yard dash, 55-yard dash, 110 yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440 yard dash, high jump, broad jump, shot put, snap under the bar and pull up.

An odor has been added to natural gas at Little Rock, Ark., to make escaping gas detectable.

GAS COMPANIES SPEND 5 MILLION

Stevens Point—Approximately $5,000,000 will be spent by gas companies in Wisconsin during 1925, due to the increased demands for manufacturing gas in industries and the extensions of gas mains into suburban sections, declared J. G. Fulton, La Crosse, in an address before the gas section of the Wisconsin Utilities association meeting in a two day convention here.

"This sum will have to be spent to keep up with the growth of the population of the various cities, and to keep pace with the demands from industries which are turning more and more to the use of gas in manufacturing processes requiring heat," Mr. Fulton said. Today about 35 per cent of the gas sold is used for cooking and heating appliances and only 15 per cent for illumination, whereas 20 years ago, these percentages were just the reverse.

"A large share of the money to be spent during 1925 will be used for laying gas mains and customer service pipes. Companies estimate that approximately 104 miles of pipe will be laid during the year.

COUNTY BUYS NEW CAR FOR ROAD COMMISSIONER

The county highway committee has purchased a new Hudson for the use of the county highway commissioner. The old car of the same make was traded in as part of the bargain. The new car, which was purchased from J. T. McCann, Appleton, cost $1,480 and the county was allowed $300 on the old car.

HENDRICKSON WILL SUCCEED DITTMORE

Len Hendrickson, assistant boys work secretary of Appleton Y. M. C. A. for the last three years, has been appointed acting boys' work secretary for the present to succeed H. A. Dittmore, who resigned to accept a position in San Francisco. The change will go into effect on March 16, when Mr. Dittmore's resignation becomes effective. It is probable that Mr. Hendrickson will continue as acting secretary for the remainder of the school year at least.

Mr. Hendrickson, whose home is in Duluth, Minn., is a senior at Lawrence college and has been assisting in local boys work since his freshman year. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and is the leader of several local boys clubs.

NOTED SPANISH WOMAN WILL SPEAK IN CHAPEL

Combining its efforts with the local branch of the American Association of University Women, the Spanish club of the college has succeeded in obtaining Senora Isabel del Palencia of Madrid to speak in Appleton Monday, March 9.

WHO PAYS TAXES?

Taxes are paid in two ways. They are paid direct to the tax collector, or indirectly to the seller of goods and service. Nominally they are paid by the first method, but in reality they are practically all paid by the latter method. This is true whether they are real, personal, income, tariff, or other tax.

Taxes are a fixed part of the overhead of transacting business, of every form of economic and commercial activity, and therefore of the cost of living. There is no escape from this universal entrance of taxes into every move we make.

The property owner must earn or make enough to pay taxes, insurance and other fixed charges. The merchant, the manufacturer, the distributor, the agricultural producer, must do the same.

Let us take the merchant for example. He is on the same footing as everyone else. In order to exist and make a profit he must pay his rent, light, insurance, taxes, etc.—all items entering into the cost of doing business. Every penny of this overhead goes into the price of the commodity he sells. The purchaser or the ultimate consumer pays it all. No system of taxation can suspend or avoid this economic law. In the end the burden of practically all taxes falls on the ultimate consumer. It makes no difference whether they are in the form of property, income, franchise or other tax.

Every time a pair of shoes is purchased, a hat, a suit of clothes, a piece of furniture, food, machinery, service, or anything else, taxes are a part of the price paid.

Some persons are apt to think that because of the wide distribution of taxes in this manner, they are small to the individual. This, however, is not the case. In Wisconsin an aggregate of more than $100,000,000 of taxes of all character is paid annually. Based on the present estimated population of Wisconsin, this is a per capita home tax of approximately $40.00. It is $200 for a family of five persons. This tax is paid by the consumer. He helps to pay the tax whether he owns a dollar's worth of property and pays any tax directly or not. Some persons pay above the average of $40 and some pay below, depending upon how much money they spend. But every person pays. Those of large incomes probably do not pay in proportion as those of small incomes. There are certain fixed expenses of living that everybody must meet in common.

The point is that this $100,000,000 of taxes levied in Wisconsin each year goes into the price of the things we buy, whether goods or service. But the average of $40 per capita for taxes in Wisconsin is not all the taxes that are paid and concealed in the cost of living. In addition there are federal taxes which raise this per capita overhead substantially. If we include the tariff and other forms of indirect taxation it is probably not an exaggeration to say that the average taxes paid annually in Wisconsin exceed $75 per person or $375 for a family of five.

The direct and large part that taxes play in the cost of living is apparent. We have not paid much attention to it in this country because we have produced wealth so rapidly we have not taken into consideration those things which make for or are essential to economy. We are, however, rapidly reaching the point where they must be reckoned with, and economy actually practiced.

President Coolidge discerned this important fact and he made economy and tax reduction the principal policy of his administration. He has achieved notable results already, and reduced federal expenditures by more than $2,000,000,000 annually by forcing retrenchment on congress and all of the administrative departments. He will probably be known as "economy" as well as "cautious" Cal, and his administration will stand out in this respect as one of the best in our history.

Obviously the need of the day is economy in public expenditures. That is the way to help the wage-earner and the farmer. It is the way to reduce the cost of living and to leave a larger margin of net saving to producer and worker.

In Wisconsin general property taxes, from 1914 to 1924 more than doubled. That is they increased from $41,755,000 to $100,120,000. Inheritance and income taxes almost quadrupled; that is, they increased from $2,394,000 in 1914 to $8,902,000 in 1924. Railroad taxes practically doubled, while state disbursements were almost three times as great in 1924 as in 1914. The figures are $7,916,229 for 1914 and $21,872,000 for 1924.

Keep in mind that all of these taxes are paid out of wealth production in the economic sense. They are paid by the last purchaser, by the ultimate consumer.

Let us look at it in another way. The population of Wisconsin from 1914 to 1924 increased 12.22 per cent. State expenditures in the same period increased 176.29.

Can any person shut his eyes to the significance of the above? Is there any argument over the public policy they recommend? Are not economy and reduced taxes clearly the need of the hour?

What is the policy at Madison? Instead of reducing the aggregate of taxes in Wisconsin the tax bill before the legislature, which is understood to have the indorsement of the administration, INCREASES taxes in Wisconsin by an estimated sum of $5,000,000. Who will pay this additional tax? There is only one answer. It is the men and women who purchase the necessities and comforts of living. It is everybody. It is just that much additional load onto the tax everybody is paying now. It cannot be apportioned to any one class. It is paid by all. No person's tax is or can be reduced one penny. No amount of sophistry can alter this fact.

Mr. Blaine says he wants to shift taxes from property to income. His bill does not even begin to do this. It does not scratch the surface. Furthermore, the legislature is powerless to shift this tax no matter what laws it passes.

Suppose, for argument, the railroads, manufacturers and other corporations are forced to pay more taxes. Do the stockholders pay this tax? They do not. The man who rides on the train pays the tax as a part of his fare. The man who buys gas or electricity pays the tax of the public utility. The man who buys from the storekeeper pays the tax of the manufacturer, jobber, merchant, and so on.

The shifting of taxes is a pleasant and plausible theory but difficult in practice. In our opinion the increase of income taxes is the poorest method of all to shift this burden, for it goes immediately into commerce, business, industry and production, and the consumer must and does pay it. Furthermore, it operates to keep wages down and increase unemployment.

The nearest approach to the removal of taxes from consumption costs is to put them on unproductive and unearned wealth. The tax problem is an age-old problem, and thus far no means has been found to take it off the back of the ultimate consumer.

There could be no objection to the theoretical desire of the governor to shift taxes from property to income in Wisconsin provided all taxes were reduced, but to have any real relief there must be a reduction of all of them. The program of the state administration is to INCREASE and not REDUCE taxes. In this respect it is fundamentally wrong.

The shark is not as big a fish as the man who thinks he is a shark.

One also think you can say for winter is getting cold doesn't with your collar.

People who don't look before they leap land in a predicament.

While lightning strikes only once in the same place, it is possible to be thunderstruck often.

A quarter looks like a dollar to us, but it seems to look like a nickel to the tax collector.

CHLORINE TREATMENT OF CRI.

The New York city health department recently decided after a fairly thorough try out, that the chlorine gas treatment for respiratory diseases is not satisfactory. And yet the treatment may be well worth while in certain respiratory diseases. Col. Edward B. Vedder and Capt. Harold P. Sawyer, of the United States army medical corps, now find that their earlier conclusion, that hour of exposures appeared sufficient to sterilize the surfaces of the tonsils and throat, was erroneous, for their later investigations have shown that such destruction of germs by chlorine cannot be expected. This conclusion is of great importance, for the fame of chlorine gas treatment for cri originated in the army medical department. It seems that the earlier studies were made on healthy volunteers, and with a rather higher concentration of chlorine than is now considered right. The medical officers still consider the chlorine gas treatment a valuable one, however, and the gassing chamber is still in constant use.

Chlorine has no penetrating power, and of course cannot destroy only disease germs in the tissues anywhere. Even if it can or does destroy or kill germs on the surface of the tonsils, throat, larynx or lungs, the germs present in the mucus covering these surfaces; that would be no particular gain, for it is only the germs which have invaded the tissues that are doing harm to the patient.

Some definite benefit is generally obtained from the chlorine gas treatment in whooping cough, and the medical officers ascribe this benefit partly to the free flow of secretions induced by the irritating effect of the chlorine, the loosened secretions being coughed up more readily.

The irritant action of chlorine induces more or less hyperemia or increased flow of blood to the capillary vessels of the region irritated, and such a hyperemia of the affected mucous membrane is also according to Brier, with an increase in the scattered according to Brier, with an increase in the number of white blood corpuscles (leucocytes, phagocytes) are the ones that destroy disease germs in the tissues.

Chlorine is a powerful oxidizing agent, and to its power in this action chemists attribute its disinfecting deodorizing effects. These army medical corps officers suggest that the physiological action of oxygen freed by the chemical action of the chlorine stimulates the natural processes of immunization by which recovery from any infectious disease occurs.

For satisfactory results the concentration of chlorine in the gassing chamber must be very carefully controlled to keep it greater than 0.0009 mg. per liter for the full hour, yet not over 0.015 at any time, for over that concentration the chlorine gas becomes harmfully irritating. Under the strength of 0.009 the concentration is too weak to have any value. Perhaps a considerable disinfectant has come from failure to maintain the proper concentration for the entire hour.

Hay fever, asthma, pneumonia and tuberculosis are not benefited by the chlorine treatment, and in some cases made worse.

Coryza, acute bronchitis, acute laryngitis, chronic bronchitis and whooping cough are the conditions in which the most satisfactory results are obtained from chlorine gas treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Can a Wife Catch Tuberculosis?

Is tuberculosis catching? For instance is there danger that a wife will catch it from her husband if he has it when they are married. Or vice versa? (B. J. S.)

Answer.—Tuberculosis is not catching in the way that diphtheria or measles is, that is there is little or no chance of catching tuberculosis through a single accidental contact with one who has the disease. But tuberculosis is infectious through prolonged, repeated or habitual contact with one who has the disease, as in the cases you suggest, or chums, lovers, room mates, workers side by side, teacher and pupil, nurse and patient, parent and child, brother and sister.

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

Navy men say battleships can be pretty well protected against aerial attack—the Washington tests proved it—air bombs failed—Rear Admiral Hughes was on the Washington when two of them hit her—finally she had to be sunk by gunfire. Brig. Gen. Mitchell declares the naval armament failed because they tried to fall—air bombs will sink anything—the sank two battleships with them himself, and would have done it quicker if the navy hadn't interfered with him. The navy men reply that he didn't sink anything under war conditions—those ships were anchored and undefended.

CAN'T DECIDE

With experts differing thus, the congressional committee which has been investigating aviation's military value admits it can't make up its mind.

So it suggests:
Why not provide another battleship and let Mitchell show what he can do under war conditions?

Navy men ask:
Where are war conditions to come from? Deck protection takes time. Under radio control a ship can't be driven very fast. How about a crew to man anti-aircraft guns and work the pumps?

Mitchell is willing.

ARMAMENTS

The leading powers are discussing another conference to reduce navies still further. America, England, Italy and Japan are favorable. France isn't so certain.

FRANCE'S DEBTS

Due to her delay in recognizing her war-debts, France's money has slumped until her government is in dire straits. It dare not tax the masses any more, so a "capital levy" is proposed.

That is, if the plan is adopted, the rich will have to give part of their fortunes to meet national needs.

B. H. Kirwan, "ex-adjutant" of the Baltimore and Annapolis fleet, got six months for rum smuggling.

The coast guard cutter Tampa seized the British schooner Marjorie Bachman as a rum runner. According to testimony at the subsequent trial in Boston, the prize crew drank most of the liquor they captured.

A. E. Sartain got a year and a half in the Atlanta penitentiary, which he recently was warden of, for taking money to make it easy for bootlegger prisoners, but appealed.

All is ready for the National Anti-Tobacco convention in Washington March 4 and 5. A bill pending in the North Carolina legislature to prohibit flirting under 30 day's jail penalty.

By ARNOLD MULDER

A FOURTH OF A MASTERPIECE

I have just had the intellectual adventure of reading the first volume of the 4-volume novel, "The Peasants," that won the Nobel prize for literature in 1924 for Ladislav St. Reymont, Polish novelist. The other three parts are in process of translation, the second volume about to be published or already in print. I am not certain. And until all four are before us it will be impossible to evaluate the book finally as a work of art, because "The Peasants" is a single novel, not four novels as the installment method of publication may lead some to suppose. But that the novel as a whole is like a tapestry of a masterpiece seems certain. Judging from the first volume, "Autumn," a fourth of a masterpiece therefore is before us.

Never was the fact better illustrated that great literature is often very simple. Simplicity is the alpha and the omega of "The Peasants." Consider the very title and the titles of its parts. Nothing hidden or obscure or profound in "The Peasants," and the four parts are merely named after the four seasons. Apparently writer has set out to give his readers the detailed life story of a single year in the life of a typical peasant village in Poland. Just that and nothing more.

STICKS TO SEASONS

In "Autumn," the first volume, he sticks tenaciously to his season. The book opens with the potato harvest in the early fall and it closes on the day when snow begins to fall, marking the close of fall and the opening of winter. But within that time limit all the moods of autumn in Poland are given, apparently without effort and as a natural part of the daily lives of the peasants. The seasons mean much more to peasants than to city dwellers and their story could not be told without telling the story of the weather, rain and cold, shortening days, harvest and preparations for the winter.

There is no conventional "plot" in the book although there is a story and quite an absorbing one too. But it too is marked by extreme simplicity. A 60-year-old peasant, the wealthiest man in the village, decides to marry again and he chooses the prettiest girl in the village who is under 20. Illustrating the adage that there is no fool like an old fool, he settles, six acres of land on her, which amounts to a fortune in terms of the village. His grownup children object strenuously. A complication arises from the fact that the son, though married, is also in love with the bride-to-be and the fires of passion and hatred are lighted in the simple peasant cottage. The father drives his son from home and the book ends with the marriage. That is the story and it does not sound exciting when stated baldly. But some of the greatest stories ever told have been as simple as that, and this is of course only one part of the book.

IT IS NOT "PRETTY"

The person who is looking for a "pretty" story should not take up "The Peasants." It is far from being "pretty." It is possible that some readers will be shocked by its plainness or speech. But how could a true picture of peasant life be given without plain speech? Anyone who knows anything about back-country rural life knows that there is far less enthusiasm in the speech of the dwellers there than in the speech of city dwellers with its thin veneer of politeness.

But the book has strength, the strength of nature. In it the reader becomes acquainted with peasant life in Poland so that the figures in the book are almost like living people. And there are the same social grades and classes among the peasants that are found everywhere, wealth determining the place of honor. The peasant village is the world in miniature, the reader feels, although the author never makes the mistake of allegorizing. One enthusiastic reviewer calls "The Peasants" "undoubtedly the greatest Polish novel of the century." That is a large order and from the nature of the case cannot be verified since the country has 75 years to go. But it is certainly a worthwhile novel.

St. Reymont wrote it from 1902 to 1906. He is described as a quiet, modest man. He visited America once but refused to be lionized, visiting communities of fellow Poles and quietly going back to his farm in Poland.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing to the Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Give your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Why is cream of tartar used in candy and cake frosting? H. C. W.

A. It is used to make the product creamier. The cream of tartar changes the sugar into a syrup and the candy is smoother.

Q. What was the name of the dog that led the pack when antitoxin was taken to Nome? J. H.

A. His name was Rollo. Dispatches say that this dog died shortly afterward as a result of his exposure during this trip.

Q. Is the Prince Albert whose picture appears on the tins of smoking tobacco, the present King of England? T. R. G.

A. The Prince Albert pictured was the husband of Queen Victoria of England. He was Albert, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg and Gotha.

Q. Who are the kneeling figures in Raphael's Sistine Madonna? K. J. L.

A. Pope Sixtus IV and Santa Barbara, the patron saint of Venetian gunners, are the kneeling figures in the Sistine Madonna.

Elk Bowlers Plan Annual Stag Party

Elk lodge will hold its usual annual bowling banquet this year, right after the club tournament closes. The last games will be rolled March 6 and the dinner will take place Monday, March 9.

A committee is in communication with outside entertainers who will be brought here to take part in the program. Elaborate plans are being made for the evening's amusements.

The banquet will be strictly a stag affair equal to those of other years. It will be open to the entire lodge membership, not merely those who have bowled this season. Accommodations will be arranged for 300 but none will be admitted unless reservations has been made in advance.

Awarding of prizes amounting to more than $400 will be one feature of the program. There are 12 teams and 12 individual prizes and several special awards including a bonus on games to the winners, prizes to the highest scorers and those with other exceptional records.

Womans Club Cagers Defeat Neenah Squad

SHE'S MISSING AGAIN

Five times Florence Buchanan, 15, of Los Angeles, has been missing from home. Four times she returned, her memory gone, but herself not harmed. Last she hasn't been back since Jan. 21. Psychologists say "dual personality." Chances acquaintances say "craving for companionship." Her father agrees with psychologists.

Invite Country Women To Meet Here To Form Club

An informal call has been issued from Appleton Womans club to women of the county to meet at the clubhouse corner of N. Oneida and W. Hanfurst, from 1:30 to 3 o'clock Saturday. Saturday is Fair day and it is expected that many county women will be in town.

There has been a growing desire for a way whereby women of the country and small towns nearby might form an independent group, having their own activities, and yet be a part of Appleton Womans club. Miss Lucy Helen Pearson, general director said.

Thelma Miss Pearson said, is no departure from the rules of Appleton Womans club for the constitution provides that all women of Outagamie co may be included. The hope of this movement is to give county women a chance to define themselves as a part of the Appleton community of women. They are in the Business and Professional Womans club, but the privileges of the clubhouse would be extended to them.

The county group would meet each Fair day at the clubhouse for luncheon if the women so chose, with a program or speakers in the afternoon. This is made possible by the registration plan, Miss Pearson said, for each woman does not pay to get into the club, but helps support her own organization and then gives what she can to the support of the club.

The women of the county are invited to make use of the clubhouse when they are in the city, especially the little rest room upstairs.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT TALKS AT CHURCH SUPPER

The Rev. Theodore Paville of Madison state, superintendent of Congregational churches in Wisconsin was the speaker at the church night supper at First Congregational church Thursday night. Mr. Paville spoke on "The Service of the Church" pointing out the way in which individuals may have a share in the great program of the churches.

The attendance was small, probably due to the cold weather. The devotion of the church served the supper. Devotions were led by Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor.

A meeting of the membership committee followed the supper. Plans were made for the every member social visitation, which will be held next month.

STUDENTS CHARTER BUSES TO ATTEND OSKOSH GAM

Students of Appleton High school have chartered two buses to make the trip to Oshkosh Saturday evening when the local basketball team meets Oshkosh high. The buses will leave the high school about 6:30 and will return to Appleton immediately after the game. Several boys who were planning to hike to the sawdust city have changed their minds because of the cold weather of the last few days and will swell the number of bus travelers. It is expected Appleton will be represented by at least 100 rooters at the game.

250 Attend Stag Party For Masons

More than 250 persons attended the stag party of Waverly lodge of the Masonic order Thursday evening in Masonic temple. Entertainment consisted of cards, billiards and chess, followed by lunch and a program.

The program opened with group singing followed by several vocal solos by Carl McKee, LaVahn Maesch presented two piano selections, and Ray Finkle of Seymour, presented eight of hand performances. Dr. Boyden, also of Seymour, gave several vocal and piano selections. The program was followed by a smoker at which H. W. Tuttrup and G. D. Buchanan were the speakers.

The party was open to members of Waverly lodge, Appleton chapter, Appleton commandery and all resident non-affiliated Masons. The social committee of the lodge was in charge.

Young Women Happy Over Water Class

An enthusiastic group of young women attended the first of a series of ten lessons in swimming Thursday night given in Elk club pool under the direction of the recreation department of Appleton Womans club. Mrs. E. H. Wright is the instructor. The department has announced that more young women may be accommodated and registrations will be received at the clubhouse. A small fee to cover tank expenses is charged each person.

Girl Scouts met at 4 o'clock for the first lesson. Lawrence college girls, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Adst, met at 5 o'clock, the beginners were taught at 7 o'clock and advanced swimmers had a plunge at 7:45.

WANT SUPPORT HERE FOR HIGHER TUITION BILL

Support for non-resident boys and girls attending high school would be increased from $72 to approximately $102 a year, if a bill now pending in legislature is passed. The bill provides that non-resident students of any Wisconsin high school are to be charged for at the rate of $38.50 a week. The charge is to be made against the municipality in which the student lives.

The board of education of Manawa is supporting the proposed law and has urged the Appleton board to do the same. It has long been maintained in this city that the present tuition of $72 a year is not sufficient since it does not amount to the per capita cost of educating the pupil. The per capita cost is more than $100. Not very many years ago all that schools were allowed to charge for tuition was $36.

Mrs. Thomas McEyes and daughter Helen, and Mrs. James Prunty left Friday for Chicago where they will spend the weekend.

Mrs. Eugene Carr has returned from Mount Clemens, Mich. Gus Koller, Jr., is in Eau Claire on business.

Mrs. H. Rohloff, 1415 N. Superior st., submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth hospital Thursday afternoon.

Six Things a tooth paste should do

Fight acids with magnesia. Combat germ attacks with the right antiseptics. Protect the gums with iodine. Cleanse with a fruit-oil cleanser. Beautify with polishes. Sweeten the breath with deodorants. Phillips' Dental Magnesia does all.

Fight All Foes

To your teeth with one application

There is now a simple, easy way to fight all tooth enemies at once. No need to use several tooth pastes, then a mouth wash, then magnesia. All helps are combined in one.

Four great organizations of experts have combined their skill to produce the utmost in a tooth paste. To meet all modern requirements in effective ways. The result is called the "Formula of 1924." Phillips' Dental Magnesia has adopted that formula as the best we know today in a dentifrice.

Magnesia, above all

Magnesia is all-important for the teeth. It neutralizes acids, the cause of tooth decay. Acids are forever forming between and around the teeth. If not combated, they attack the teeth. Magnesia is the best way to combat them.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia has for 50 years been standard with dentists and physicians. It is a super-magnesia. Now we combine it in a tooth paste, in concentrated form, to penetrate between the teeth and stay. And we call it Phillips' Dental Magnesia.

All helps combined

Magnesia is the most important factor in a tooth paste. The great tooth enemy, which is acid, must be fought night and day.

But other things are essential. This modern tooth paste—Formula of 1924—seeks to include them all.

It contains four antiseptics to combat the germs which breed by millions in the mouth. It contains iodine, to protect the gums. It cleans with a fruit-oil cleanser. It whitens and beautifies the teeth with two polishing agents, both safe and efficient. And it includes four deodorants to sweeten and purify the breath.

You need no mouth wash with it, no magnesia, no deodorants. All are combined in Phillips' Dental Magnesia. Every use applies all the best helps known to modern science.

Begin it today

Start it now. Learn how pleasant, how complete are its effects. You will never again use tooth pastes aimed at one effect.

Do not sleep another night with acids on your teeth. Or start another day. Let this modern tooth pasteshow you—now—what a dentifrice should do.

Based on Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—the super-magnesia, standard for 50 years with dentists and physicians. At all drug stores.

I'm glad we have GOOD LUCK to serve the Willoughby's. They appreciate pure food

HUGE FLEET BEING BUILT TO BATTLE SEA BOOTLEGGERS

Coast Guard Preparing for Real Attack on Prosperous Rum Row

BY LARRY BOARDMAN
Washington—With more than 300 new craft at its disposal, the U. S. coast guard is preparing to take a fresh try at curtailing the activities of Rum Row.

The new flotilla will consist of 223 patrol boats, 75 feet long and armed with one-pounders and machine guns, and 100 picket boats 35 feet in length and equipped with machine guns.

About half of these have been built. The rest are under construction. Besides these small craft, the guard will use eight of its destroyers and the first-class cutter Red Wing for its maritime blind pig sticking.

Until now the coast guard has been powerless to make even an appreciable dent in the ocean booze smuggling business. This admission is made by Admiral Frederick C. Billard, coast guard commandant.

He declares operations have been crippled by lack of ships and men. Also, a multitude of other vitally important duties have made drains upon time and resources.

RUM ROW THRIVING
Just what effect the flotilla of small craft will have on rum running is problematical. The ocean bootleggers have nearly every advantage on their side.

Rum Row is a thriving business. That means it has money to spend for men and equipment—and spends it.

Most of its ships are fast modern steam yachts. It sends its liquor to shore in high-powered motor boats, capable of terrific speed.

Its operators are experienced seamen, the best that can be obtained regardless of salary.

The coast guard craft must carry lights. The rum fleet motor boats go unlighted.

The guardsmen must be on duty night and day, week after week and month after month. The rum runners can await a favorable opportunity, then make a dash for it.

SYMPATHY WITH RUNNERS
Public sympathy along the coast is reported to be all in favor of the liquor smugglers.

False reports and "tips" are continually given to the nautical prohibition agents, while the smugglers are kept informed at all times as to their enemies' whereabouts.

A favorite trick is to lure the guardsmen away with false "G. O. S." signals when a cargo of booze is to be run ashore.

That the coast guard's new flotilla will pick off a few rum runners is, of course, certain.

Already it has one scalp on its belt. The patrol boat CG-153, in command of Botsawain J. M. Vincent, recently captured the rum ship Lorraine Rita, carrying 3000 cases of liquor off the Jersey coast.

But whether coast guard captures will be frequent enough to have any real effect on Rum Row is something different again.

Coast guard officials and prohibitionists hope they will, rum runners and thirsty citizens hope not, but only the future will tell.

COLLEGE DEBATORS START STATE TOUR

Two Lawrence debating teams left Thursday for the tour of the western part of the state for a series of four debates with two Ripon teams. High schools in Eau Claire, New Richmond, Chippewa Falls, River Falls, and Ellsworth will be visited. The debates will be non-decision, open forum meets under the new plan.

The Lawrence affirmative speakers are J. Alden Behnke, Appleton; George Skowes, Appleton; and Crestor Seftenberg, Oshkosh. They meet the Ripon negatives at Eau Claire and New Richmond Thursday and Friday nights.

The Lawrence negative team have three debates on the trip at Chippewa Falls, River Falls, and Ellsworth, on Thursday night, Friday afternoon, and Friday night. The negative speakers are Gordon Clapp, Ellsworth, Wilfred Bird, River Falls; and Willard Henock, Milwaukee. Professors Orr and Franzke of the public speaking department accompanied the teams.

After this trip the season will officially close with two more debates against Ripon, the dates for which are only tentative. These debates will be at Green Bay and Waupun. The trip to the far west will be post-season.

TEACHERS SEEK STANDARD FOR LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION

Dr. G. C. Cast of Lawrence college German department has received a letter from Prof. B. Q. Morgan of the University of Wisconsin asking him to cooperate in standardizing the teaching of foreign languages in the colleges and universities of the country. Prof. B. Q. Morgan is chairman of the North Central district of the American Council of Education.

In the teaching of languages in the schools questions are being asked as to how much work should be demanded and as to the standard for judging work. The American Council of Education is investigating the language instruction in various colleges to obtain a standard.

Prof. Cast will give his students tests on vocabulary, syntax, and free composition. The results will be sent to Prof. Morgan at the university and compared with the results from other colleges and a standard obtained.

Haskin Bureau Is Huge Research Organization

When you write a letter to the Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau at Washington, of which Fredrick J. Haskin is director, asking the age of Senator Lenroot, or the color of Mrs. LaFollette's hair, or how to keep ants from getting into your kitchen cabinet, you may be interested to know just how your missive is handled and how many hands it passes through before you get your answer. Hundreds of Post-Crescent readers are availing themselves of this privilege of referring to the information bureau when they are in doubt and hundreds of readers of other newspapers are doing the same thing.

Several times a day a wagon from the Washington postoffice stops in front of the new and handsome Post-Crescent building at Twenty-first and O streets in the city of Washington, just in the rear of the new Goodhue building and not far from the Lincoln memorial. It drops a liberal quota of mail on each trip and often carries away several full sacks of letters and documents. Ten thousand letters are often received in a single day, while the weight of the booklets and other documents sent out will mount up into many tons each month.

Your letter will be carried into the main workroom and office, a well lighted and beautifully arranged apartment occupying the entire floor. The letter will be slit open by an expert. If it contains a coupon and stamp calling for a certain document it will be sent over to a group of clerks who select from pigeon holes the booklet desired, write your address on the cover and speed it on its way. If it is an unusual document that is wanted it may be necessary to send below to the reserve store rooms to get. But usually the coupons are running concurrently in the Haskin service in scores of newspapers and it is easy to have on hand the literature that will be asked for from day to day.

If your letter contains a question or a series of questions, that part of it will take a different course. It will go to a row of three or four desks presided over by bright young women, in charge of a chief who could easily be taken for the president of a woman's college or a dean of women in a state university. The letters are read, classified and laid out in neat piles. Unanswerable or crank communications are sent back or mailed to the managing editor of the home paper to be dealt with according to his temper or his mercy.

Questions that are clearly intended to beat some school examination are sent back with the explanation that it would be unfair to the teacher to answer them. The rest, comprising more than 90 per cent of the entire mail, are ready for the investigators when they appear, just like a newspaper staff, at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Fifteen young women, all of them college graduates and many of them working for advanced degrees, receive these questions as their daily assignments.

First they run the questions over. Here is one that can be answered offhand by the one who receives it or by her colleagues. Others can be disposed of rather quickly by consulting the reference library in the center of the room. By far the greater number may best be managed by referring them to some department of the federal government. Three investigators are constantly on duty at the library of congress. The general question that cannot be answered there must be a baffling one. But questions are coming in every hour of the day referring to data too fresh to be included in any work of reference. How much wheat did Nebraska raise in 1924? Will Russia export any grain in the coming year? What is the relative price of wheat at Chicago and at Winnipeg? There is just one place in the United States where such questions can be answered. That is the United States department of agriculture. That is the reason more than one hundred newspapers scattered all over the United States maintain information offices in Washington, in connection with the Haskin plant. It is cooperation that gives a valuable service at no cost to the newspaper reader.

The investigators stay out on their runs, going through as many departments as they need to dispose of all of their questions. The government officials are so ambitious to make their bureaus valuable to the public that they go to any amount of pains to get a correct answer. Investigators have known bureau chiefs to suspend regular work for an hour and press buttons all over the place to help get an answer to some interesting question. Your letter may conceivably be referred to a member of the cabinet, if it is significant enough to interest the under secretaries. Official Washington always likes to know what the country is thinking about and esteems this information work as a reliable barometer of public opinion and thought.

When the investigators finish their rounds they return to the office with the answers written in shorthand on the margins or backs of the letters. At one end of the large room row after row of stenographers are ready to receive dictation. The answers are written out in duplicate. The answer to your inquiry is checked by an inspector and sent out to you.

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS
Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as occasional or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it today—you do not even pay postage.

Fellowship Of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading prepared for Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The Fruits of Repentance
Read Lk. 3:7-14. Text: 8:8. Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance.

MEDITATION—True repentance is not a form or ceremony. It is a plain and practical command to each one of us. It involves a turning from sin and the beginning of a life of love and service to one's fellow men; helping the needy, comforting the sorrowful, inspiring the discouraged, bringing others to Christ. These are some of the fruits of repentance. Repentance like a tree is known by its fruits.

"When you say 'Lead us not into temptation,' you must in good earnest mean to avoid in your daily conduct those temptations which you have already suffered from. When you say 'Deliver us from evil,' you must mean to struggle against that evil in your hearts, of which you are conscious and for which you pray to be forgiven. To watch and to pray are surely in our power, and by these means we are sure of getting strength."

PRAYER—God of all strength, look with thy great compassion upon our agriculture. That is the reason more than one hundred newspapers scattered all over the United States maintain information offices in Washington, in connection with the Haskin plant. It is cooperation that gives a valuable service at no cost to the newspaper reader.

The investigators stay out on their runs, going through as many departments as they need to dispose of all of their questions. The government officials are so ambitious to make their bureaus valuable to the public that they go to any amount of pains to get a correct answer. Investigators have known bureau chiefs to suspend regular work for an hour and press buttons all over the place to help get an answer to some interesting question. Your letter may conceivably be referred to a member of the cabinet, if it is significant enough to interest the under secretaries. Official Washington always likes to know what the country is thinking about and esteems this information work as a reliable barometer of public opinion and thought.

When the investigators finish their rounds they return to the office with the answers written in shorthand on the margins or backs of the letters. At one end of the large room row after row of stenographers are ready to receive dictation. The answers are written out in duplicate. The answer to your inquiry is checked by an inspector and sent out to you.

GERMANS TAKE KINDLY TO U. S. CHEWING GUM

Berlin—The Germans have given American chewing gum a try out, and like it. The little five cent packages have become a familiar sight in Berlin, along with signs setting forth the merits of the goods. The packages retail here for about 20 cents, and are on sale in barber shops, drug stores, department stores, cafes and from peddler's carts in the streets.

New York state has 110 tuberculosis clinics.

GEOGRAPHY HAD BIG INFLUENCE IN PICKING JARDINE

Calvin Coolidge Wanted Western Farmer for Position in Cabinet

BY CHARLES P. SEWART
Washington — Geography had a good deal to do with Dr. William Jardine's selection by President Coolidge for the post of secretary of agriculture, succeeding Howard M. Gore, who retires March 4 to become governor of West Virginia.

Dr. Jardine is a Kansan. Nobody can say that Kansas is anything but an "agriculture state."

Iowa is a farm state too, but Iowa has had so many of her sons at the head of the Department of Agriculture that there was some feeling in Washington that she ought to give some other section of the country a chance at recognition for while.

Old Oklahoma is a farm state but a wee bit too far south and a trifle too Democratic to answer the present administration's purposes.

Wyoming was considered a little too extremely western. Still another consideration entered into President Coolidge's calculations. The livestock industry is greatly distressed just now. Crop-raising was equally depressed seven or eight months ago but it has recovered since then. Not so cattle production. The situation seemed to point toward the choice of a secretary who would feel strongly for the livestock men in their troubles. Yet he must be a man whom agriculturists would regard as essentially the choice of the cattle industry.

Now, Jardine is a specialist in agronomy—the theory and practice of crop production—the scientific management of the soil.

But he began life as a cattle man. Born on an Idaho ranch in 1879 all his early experience was on the range.

It was from the back of a cow pony he had ridden all over the Big Hole Basin of Montana that he was finding himself, aged about 20, to catch stage and train for a course in the Utah Agricultural College.

In school he devoted himself especially to grain research.

He did so well at it that his alma mater drafted him for a professorship soon after his graduation. By 1906 the Department of Agriculture in Washington had heard of him and he became assistant expert cerealist there.

Four years later the directorship of agronomy at the Kansas State Agricultural College was offered to him. In 1913 he became the institution's president.

As head of farm production in Kansas during the war the country grew to know him still better. Membership in the presidential commission which recently has been considering farm relief brought him into personal contact with the national chief executive.

Forty tables were in play in the American legion card party at the opera house Monday evening, Feb. 23. Prizes were awarded as follows: First at skat, Enoch Otis, consolation, Arthur Dietler, first at schafkopf, Henry Krueckeberg, consolation, Mrs. Hofmann, first at rummy, Mrs. Emil Dobberstein, consolation, Miss Lucille Stillman, first at five hundred, Mrs. C. Buchner, consolation, Miss Erickson. A radio set was installed in the opera house to furnish entertainment for the players, and also those who did not play cards. The card party was followed by a dance.

Parent-teachers' club has been organized at Knowledge Hill school, district number 2, Hortonville. Officers were elected at follows: president, Mrs. Henry Krueckeberg; vice president, Mrs. Emil Dobberstein; secretary, Mrs. Elisabeth. The club plans to hold an entertainment once a month. Miss Evelyn Althorn is the treasurer.

The fire department was called out again early Sunday morning to extinguish a fire at the Hoffman residence. Sparks from the chimney started burning the roof. A small amount of damage was done.

Among the non-residents who attended the funeral of Emil Schwabs Saturday were: Mrs. O. B. Schultz and children, Minneapolis; Mrs. Martha Jones, Green Bay; Mrs. Hilda Mann, Mrs. Erich, Mrs. Hietala, Edward Wlechert, Oshkosh, Wis., and Mrs. O. Wlechert, Mr. and Mrs. John Hogner, Mrs. Emil Zeidler, Appleton, Gustav Winkler, Clintonville, Herbert Boettcher, Milwaukee; Theodore Boettcher, Kaukauna, Mrs. Edgar Schmidt, Menasha.

Butcher Rejoices Over Wife's Recovery

"My wife suffered for five years and practically lived on toast and hot water. Doctors said she would have to be operated for gall stones. A lady advised her to try Mayr's Wonderful Biliary and after taking a bottle over two years ago, she has been entirely well ever since." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded on all druggists. Adv.

COMPETITION RAISES GLORIA'S CONTRACT TO $17,500 A WEEK

Los Angeles, Calif. — According to the Los Angeles Examiner Thursday competition among motion picture producers for the services of Gloria Swanson, screen star, has resulted in the signing of a new contract with the Famous Players-Lasky, by which Miss Swanson will receive a weekly salary of $17,500. The salary which the star will receive under the terms of her new contract is said to be the highest ever paid to a motion picture performer as a direct salary where no percentage is involved.

The screen actress has been getting $7,500 a week under her old contract, the examiner says.

Paris — The clinic where Gloria Swanson is resting following her recent operation reported Thursday morning that the American film star has passed a good night, and was doing well.

Now we stimulate Glands To restore health and vitality

A modern medicine lies in the use of gland extracts and secretions.

Now we are using ox gall for the liver, and for all that torpid liver does. No drugs known afford like stimulation. No countless people in all sorts of conditions are getting efficient help.

Checks Poisons
Torpid liver means more than indigestion, more than constipation. It means a scant supply of bile and bile is what checks germs in the intestines. When bile is lacking, germs breed by millions. Their poisons are absorbed by the blood.

One result is impure blood, sallow complexion, pimples, etc. Heart and kidney troubles are often due to poisons. So is high blood pressure, so is premature old age.

No Help, No Cost
We urge you to learn what ox gall does. Note the guarantee we offer. The results are quick. A day or two will tell you much of what it means. Perhaps this is just what you need. In any event, some welcome results will come. This new-day method is doing things never done before.

But get the genuine ox gall. It comes in tablets called Dioxol—at your drug store. Get nothing inferior in a treatment so important. Remember the name—Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. Go get it now and not how quickly all conditions change. Guarantee: Anyone not satisfied with results from the first box of Dioxol may return the empty box to the makers and receive his money back.

Opportunity's Knock Character

The fact is that men look the counterparts of what they are, and their faces are the tell-tales of their inner lives. "Face-value" is generally correct. When you are shown to be in the wrong, be strong enough to show that you want to be in the right. It requires a strong character to back down as well as to go forward. The best balance you ever show is the equipoise in your severest trials—a trial-balance on your character ledger. You can tell the character of the ABC Classified Section at a glance!

MA FERGUSON, NEW TEXAS GOVERNOR, BUYS MOON MOTOR

Chose St. Louis Made Roadster and Will Drive It Herself

Austin, Tex. — Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, newly elected governor of Texas has just purchased one of the latest model Moon cars for her personal use; it was made known here today.

Did she select a stately limousine or an official looking, sombre-breasted sedan or town car with a lot of dignity and an air of importance, such as a man governor would choose? No, indeed, Not "Ma."

Instead, she decided that anything that resembled a hearse would not synchronize with her disposition, nor would it be expressive of the new spirit abroad in Texas. So, for her personal car, she chose a bright and shining deluxe Moon roadster, 1925 model, fully finished in two-tone tan.

And, just to prove that she is truly democratic, "Ma" herself will do the driving. The car carries three passengers and is provided with a rumble seat for two which will very probably be occupied most of the time by the governor's grandchildren.

When "Ma" Ferguson puts her official foot down on the accelerator of that Moon roadster, she is apt to learn very quickly that it is easier to break the laws of her state than to make them, for the car is capable of making around 65 miles per hour speed. After driving her car for the first hundred miles, Madame, the Governor will very probably decide that there is need for some revision of the speed laws of the Lone Star State, where men are men and women are governors. The sale of the Moon car to Governor Ferguson was negotiated by R. V. Embleton, president of the Embleton Motor Company, distributor of Moon automobiles at San Antonio. ## MAXWELL CLIMBS DIFFICULT HILL

Stock Touring Car Achieves Climb as First Machine on Record

For the first time an automobile has climbed to the summit of Tice Hill, the famous testing ground for army motorcycles near Bakersfield, Cal. The car which made the successful ascent was a Maxwell stock touring car carrying five passengers. "The hill has always been regarded as an insurmountable wall to any motor car," says Mr. Clarence St. John, local Maxwell dealer. "It has been a proving ground for motor cycles—and only motorcycles of great power, piloted by the most skillful and daring drivers. No one ever dreamed that any automobile would ever be able to turn the summit. This Maxwell accomplishment is added evidence of the increased power and many improvements made in the good Maxwell by Chrysler engineers in the past year."

The difficulty of the stunt successfully undertaken by the Maxwell may well be imagined when more is known concerning the hill. The average length of the hill is 865 feet long. It has no roadway—not even wheel tracks to follow. No chains were used and the car carried its standard tire equipment of 5.25-inch balloons. The climb is regarded as the most difficult ever attempted by an automobile.

EMPLOYEES OF REO PLANT LIKE JOBS, MANAGER ASSERTS

Labor Turnover Establishes New Low Record for 1924

"Workmen in our shops have outdone themselves in sticking to their jobs during the past year," says H. C. Teel, factory manager of the Reo Motor Car Company, "and in spite of the fact that Reo has always been uniquely fortunate in the stability of its tire and employee record, a record for low labor turnover was established during 1924."

"Our monthly turnover of men during the calendar year has averaged only 1.44 per cent. The full importance of this extremely low figure is best realized when it is remembered that a number of manufacturers in this industry average more than 30 per cent each month, and that Reo during 1923 averaged 3 7/10 per cent per month."

"In 1923 Reo's lowest month was November when 3 1/2 per cent of the factory employees had to be replaced. October and November of 1924 required only 9/10 of one per cent replacement. It seems almost unbelievable that out of each thousand men in the shops only nine should leave in the course of a month."

"As a matter of fact, March, 1924 the month in which our turnover was greatest for the year, showed only 2 9/10 per cent, considerably under the average for 1923, and only slightly above the lowest month in that year."

"We are convinced here at the Reo that our low labor turnover is a reflection of the conditions, which these conditions along with the stability of our force of workmen have a great deal to do with the quality of Reo products. Happy and reasonably contented workmen will do the best work, and the same workmen will stick to their jobs, even when work is plentiful and they can move about at will. For this reason, Reo takes no small amount of pride in its low turnover."

"There are a number of things contributing to the success of the company in keeping its men, not the least of which is the apprentice school. Here men and boys are trained, not only to work efficiently in the rank and file of production, but also to advance to foremanships and other positions requiring technical training. Others who have gone before them to positions of high rank with the company are constant reminders that by their own efforts and ability they, too, can progress."

"Then there is the production policy of the company which provides men with adequate time in which to do their work and do it right. Pride in work well done is encouraged and it is remarkable what an interest the men take in seeing that every detail of construction is carried on with the highest degree of accuracy. Realizing that such working conditions are not to be found in many shops where automobiles are manufactured or assembled Reo employees are glad to stay with Reo."

"Many other features of the company's relation with its workmen enter into the explanation of the remarkably low labor turnover, but they may be summed up under the custom of taking an active interest in every employee without approaching paternalism. A very healthy industrial condition exists under Reo roofs, and this condition, it is believed, reflects itself in Reo Products."

This provides a practical method of testing gears, bearings and shafts for any noise in transmission or clutch. Assemblies which do not pass the test 100 percent are torn down and rebuilt with new parts. The test is strikingly illustrative of the extreme care which is taken in every phase of Lincoln manufacture.

CLEAR WINDSHIELD NEEDED FOR SAFE DRIVING IN RAIN

Wet Glass Causes Foolish Chances Often Resulting in Wrecks

"Ask any motorists if he would dare to drive his car blindfolded. You know what his answer would be," states Mr. Al Schroeder of William station. "Yet thousands of motorists are driving in wet weather back of a rain-blurred windshield, which blinds them to dangers ahead. They continue this foolish chance-taking until the accident occurs, as it inevitably must."

It is the duty of every motorist to do his or her part towards safe guarding lives, and in doing so with the aid of the mechanical safe guards now on the market, added comfort and enjoyment in secured.

"I am at a loss to understand," continues Mr. Schroeder, "how any motorist, with a definite regard for his own safety, as well as the safety of others, dares to drive in wet weather without a clear windshield vision, particularly when the cost of a windshield wiper is so little."

The selection of a windshield wiper is, however, a very important matter. It must operate continuously at a steady even speed, and not falter or stop, which is about as bad as no windshield wiper at all.

There are a number of windshield cleaning devices on the market, but from my close observation and study of this very important mechanical unit, I unhesitatingly pronounce the Stromberg Windshield Wiper to be a decided improvement over all other wipers. It is electrically operated from the storage battery by means of a small motor of high speed-type. It is built by the Stromberg Motor Devices Company of Chicago, Illinois, manufacturers of the world famous Stromberg Carburetor and is fully guaranteed. Under most severe tests it has proved to be positively continuous in operation regardless of motor speed, or door weather conditions.

The Wiper Rubber maintains a close adherence to the windshield glass, due to an exclusive "Spring Tension" feature of the Wiper Arm. Thus side-lashing and a tendency of the Wiper to spring away from the glass is eliminated. The current consumption is extremely low, being less than that required to operate a single headlight.

It is controlled by a positive switch within easy reach of the driver's seat, and can be turned on or off at will. It insured the Wiper will operate while the car is "parked" which assures a clear windshield vision when driving is resumed. Due to its compactness, the Wiper fits very close to the windshield frame. It is attractively finished in black enamel, with all exposed parts rust-proof. Complete installation instructions make it easy for car owners to install the Stromberg in a very few minutes. It is designed to operate on both 6 and 12 volts.

DEMAND FOR OLDS CLOSED TYPES IS GROWING QUICKLY

Figures of One Factory Considered Indicative of General Trend

In 1923 the number of closed type automobiles made at the Olds Motor Works Lansing, Michigan, was 33 per cent of the total number of cars manufactured. In 1924 the percentage of closed automobiles was just one half of the entire production. In 1925 the manufacturing schedules call for 75 per cent closed cars.

The figures for this one factory are considered indicative of the industry, inasmuch as the Oldsmobile is in the popular medium price field, and give a clear picture of the increasing popularity of the closed type of automobile. The changes that have made this possible show the wonderful ability of automotive engineers to adjust them selves to changing trends.

Only a decade ago a closed car was considered a luxury confined to the wealthy. Its advantages, however, attracted attention to it and there arose a demand for lower priced closed cars. Engineers and designers have made of their time to devising means of reducing the cost of manufacture, and also to increasing the vision of driver and passengers.

This development and evolution has reached a point where the vision and aliveness of the modern car equals that of the open models. The car, which is the latest and most popular type of closed automobile, is the best example of this development. In the Oldsmobile, for instance, a one-piece windshield that gives full vision forward also rises to give ample ventilation in the warmest weather. Wide windows in the 33-inch doors lower to the casing, while the 29-inch windows in the rear panels also lower to provide open car coolness. Beadless circular glass enclosure a large plate glass window in the rear gives a vision of depth and vision.

During the current year the man for Works call for 60 per cent of the entire production to be coaches 17 per cent other closed car types, and 25 per cent open cars.

CHEVROLET SALE RECORDS BROKEN

New Mark Is Set Up Since Announcement of New Type on Jan. 3

The Chevrolet Motor Company broke all its previous January records for retail sales and orders during the last month. In fact the record was made in the last 28 days of the month or since January 3 when the new Chevrolet was announced.

The Chevrolet dealers throughout the country delivered and took orders for approximately 40 per cent more cars during January than during either January 1924 or January 1923—the first months in the two years having the highest production and sales records in the history of the industry.

During the recent Chicago automobile show 1,167 Chevrolets were sold—a record which has never before been equaled by any car exhibited at this show during the same period of time.

In New York during the automobile show, where the new Chevrolet was shown for the first time, five times as many orders were taken as during any previous New York show.

At the Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia and other shows in the larger centers of population, held previous to the Chicago show, similar high records of sales were made.

"Such sales records made, not only at the automobile shows, but by dealers throughout the country, are indicative of the public acceptance of the new Chevrolet," points out R. H. Grant, general sales manager.

"In many cases, before the dealers received some of the models, these cars were purchased from specifications and photographs only," he comments. "The reason for this national acceptance lies in the fact that the new Chevrolet combines greater quality at low cost than ever before."

Cylinder bores of the Lincoln car, after being finish ground with extreme precision for diameter and parallelism, are "honed" in a special machine to bring the surface of the walls to a glasslike finish, thus eliminating self-bruising and producing a surface immediately which would ordinarily require 5,000 miles of driving with the ever-present danger of scoring before the "wearing in" was completed.

The tapered frame of the Lincoln makes possible the car's small turning radius—42 feet to the right and 45 feet to the left.

KEEPING NATION'S TIRES IN REPAIR NEEDS CLOSE WATCH

Miller Experts Observe Other Products as Well as Their Own

To keep the nation's tire replacements at the rate of 2.74 tires per car per year or less, requires constant attention of experts watching the effects of various kinds of road wear and strains on tires, according to Miller engineers engaged in the tire testing branch of the industry. In 1916 tire replacements in the United States were at the rate of 4.52 tires per car per year but in 1924 they were only 2.74 tires per car per year due to improvements made in the construction. Elaborate records are kept of the wearing down of tires, and, on these observations, engineers base recommendations as to change in construction.

Not only Miller Tires are observed but those of other factories as well. Tires used on thousands of automobiles all over the United States and many other parts of the world are kept within radius of the observers' attention.

Whenever a tire is sent back to the factory because of defects it is very carefully analyzed to ascertain if the tire is at fault, or if the automobile or truck operator is lax in his care of this very important part of automobile equipment.

Tires are regarded by tire users as so much mileage, or service, while engineers regard tires as an important part of the automobile as a transportation machine. It is on the tires that the weight of the entire car rests, and it is on them that the machine depends to adjust road conditions and soften jolts and jars.

The average layman does not realize that a tire flexes more than five million times in the course of 10,000 miles of travel, and that besides this continual flexing it has the weight of the car, and the load contained in it to actually lift over humps and breaks in the roadway. Usually this lifting over bumps and breaks in the roadway is done at a rate of speed which makes the impact, so caused, blows of several tons in force.

These continuous blows from the road and the millions of times the tires must flex in the course of miles

BEST YEAR FOR DODGE BROTHERS

Last Year Showed Gain Over 1923 in Spite of General Decrease

The year 1924 was the most successful in the history of Dodge Brothers according to company executives.

While the automotive industry as a whole showed a production decrease of 8 per cent for the first ten months of the year, compared with the same period for 1923, Dodge Brothers increased their production and sales 35 1/2 per cent.

The figures for the remaining two months of the year will show about the same percentage of gain, according to John A. Nichols, Jr., general sales manager.

"It will be recalled that 1923 was the banner year of the industry," Mr. Nichols added. "Prior to 1924, it was also Dodge Brothers best year and in view of this, our large increase last year is especially noteworthy."

"It is not exceptional for a small company, or one that is just getting under way in business, to make such an increase. But for Dodge Brothers, who stand among the three or four largest motor car manufacturers in the world, to advance so sharply over an extra good previous year is conceded by all authorities to be actually remarkable."

"Bear in mind that every year of their history has been a good year for Dodge Brothers. There have been no ups and downs—only consistent gains. These facts contribute to the unusualness of the achievement."

"Dodge Brothers entered their tenth year with a total of 1,250,000 cars built and more than one million of this number are still in daily service, giving some idea of the materials and methods employed in building the car. "Public confidence in Dodge Brothers product was never greater. Respect and admiration for the cars long life, dependable performance and comfortable riding qualities are universal."

Mr. Nichols also expressed the belief that the year 1925 would be even more prosperous than 1924 and that production plans are being made accordingly. Dodge Brothers Dealers are uniformly optimistic and looking forward to a period of activity exceeding that of the war days.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

Melvin Trams Telephone 329-J
Kaukauna RepresentativeSPEND MORE TIME
WITH YOUNGSTERS.
PARENTS ADVISED

Judge Henry Graas Gives Principal Address at P-T Meeting

Kaukauna—More money is being spent on and more attention is being given to the children of today. Judge Henry Graas of Green Bay, said in a talk Thursday evening at the monthly meeting of the Kaukauna Parent-Teachers association in the high school auditorium. The boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow who will carry the burden of the world's progress upon their shoulders and how well they will do the task will largely be determined by the training they receive when they are young, the speaker said.

The meeting opened with selections by the Electric City orchestra. Several numbers were given by the high school girls' glee club. Because of the cold weather not more than 75 persons attended the meeting. A committee composed of Mrs. W. H. Copp, chairman, Miss Martha Phillips, Miss Basing, Miss Martha Haas and A. R. Firehammer was chosen to prepare the program for the next monthly meeting.

WATCH CHILDREN
Judge Graas declared that parents must give more attention to their children. He said that when a couple builds a house or garage they spend all of their spare time watching with interest the progress the carpenters are making but they do not have time to visit school to see what kind of a job the teacher is doing in building their children's character.

Money is being appropriated annually by the national and state governments to educate farmers to secure pure bred stock. The speaker cited several personal experiences which showed how the affections of parents are directed more toward dumb animals than they are toward their own children.

"Father should live a life so straight, kind, courteous, considerate that the younger generation following in his footsteps will attain real manhood," the speaker said. "Inherited tendencies of both good and evil are transmitted to children of the third and fourth generation but the evil tendencies can easily be fought down through proper environment provided by the parents."

"In my public experiences," the judge continued, "probably 2,000 boys have passed through my hands. I have found boys who would lie, steal, throw stones through windows and who would cheat but I have never yet discovered a boy who was born bad."

APPROVE SCOUTING
The speaker expressed his heartiest approval of Boy Scouting and the principals for which it stands. He said the boy is a fountain of energy and to keep a boy continually at work or play will keep him straight.

Judge Graas also touched upon the question of social diseases. He lamented the fact that so few parents teach their children the necessary knowledge of life.

"We can have speakers upon almost any subject under the sun," Judge Graas said, "but practically none who will face a mixed audience and discuss a subject which is fast becoming one of the nation's greatest problems. By our silence we are aiding the spread of social diseases."

"One person in every ten is tainted with the disease in one of its forms. Statistics show that more than 1,000 people in every county in Wisconsin are afflicted. Fifty-eight per cent of all blindness is a result of it and more than 12,000 children in the United States under three years old are blind because their parents had contracted the disease."

Social Items

Kaukauna—The monthly meeting of Kaukauna lodge, Equitable Fraternal union was held Wednesday evening in Odd Fellow hall. Transactions of routine business was followed by a social hour.

Kaukauna Chapter, No. 101, Royal Arch Masons, held its regular meeting Wednesday evening in Masonic hall. Work in the M. M. degree was exemplified.

Routine business was disposed of at the regular weekly meeting of the Odd Fellows Thursday evening in Odd Fellow hall.

A report of the club supper given a week ago in Reformed church basement was given at the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the church Thursday afternoon in the school house. Proceeds were more than $40. Routine business was disposed of. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

More than 150 persons are expected to attend the Eastern Star meeting Friday evening in Masonic hall. The meeting will be preceded by a banquet at 6:30. Mrs. May Grimshaw, grand lecturer, will be a guest of the lodge.

ENTER STUDENTS IN MUSICAL CONTEST

Kaukauna Pupils Hopeful of Winning High Honors as Musicians

Kaukauna—Students enrolled in the high school music department, under the supervision of Miss Flora Hesse, music director, are making preparations to participate in the state music contest to be held in Madison in May. The plan was tried out last year for the first time in this state although contests have been conducted in various other states for a number of years.

Last year high schools of the state competed for honors without reference to the size of the schools. This season the schools will be divided into classes and preliminary contests will be held in April in each normal school district. Kaukauna high school will enter the contest as a class B school, open to all institutions with enrollments of less than 400 students. High schools larger than that will be in class A.

Miss Hesse plans to enter the boys' and girls' glee clubs, a mixed chorus, soprano, alto and male soloists and a piano soloist. Each student may enter in only one individual contest although students entered as soloists may also take part in the group contests. Miss Hesse has developed an exceptional boys' glee club and it is expected the group will stand a good chance of winning high honors.

The same songs and solos will be used by all students competing. Not less than 12 local boys are trying out as soloists so that it will be necessary to hold a local elimination contest to determine which boy will represent the school. Several girls also are working to win a chance as soloists.

KAUKAUNA SHOWS LITTLE INTEREST IN BOY SCOUTING

Kaukauna—Kaukauna Rotary club is the only organization in this city which demonstrated enough interest in Boy Scouting to send two representatives to a meeting which was held Thursday evening in the municipal building. Letters had previously been sent to all churches, clubs and organizations in this city asking them to appoint two delegates to the meeting which was called for the purpose of assisting in thorough organizing the Kaukauna council of Boy Scouts.

Dr. E. J. Bollinske and F. E. MacGinnis representing the Rotary club, were the only ones present. P. O. Keicher of Appleton was here also. The men decided to attempt another meeting next Thursday evening. Some personal work will be done in the meantime in an effort to secure an audience of Kaukauna people.

MANUAL TRAINING PUPILS GIVE MUSICAL PROGRAM

Kaukauna—Manual training students in the high school under W. T. Sullivan presented a program during assembly period Thursday morning in the high school. Edward Maue was chairman. A violin solo was rendered by Roland Radder, accompanied by Kenneth Ryan. Edward Langley gave a talk on wood finishes. Comic selections were sung by Carl Grimm and Lester Lindermuth with a ukulele accompaniment. The history of manual training was revealed in a talk by Abe Golden and a general discussion was given by Gordon Welsh.

KAUKAUNA PEOPLE AT DINNER FOR W. E. SMITH

Kaukauna—Twelve Kaukauna people attended the Eastern Star meeting in Appleton Wednesday evening in honor of W. E. Smith, grand patron. More than 300 persons were present. Mrs. E. Parwell of this city assisted in the program by rendering piano-phonograph selections. J. B. Delbridge, former grand patron, also gave a talk. Among the Kaukauna people present were Mrs. H. G. Braver, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krahn, Mrs. Edward Haas, Mrs. A. H. Knox, Mrs. H. E. Thompson, Mrs. E. Farwell, Mrs. Leona Hale and Miss Marcella Thompson.

Do This After Severe Illness

How to Speedily Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But no body wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting, stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask Schlitz Bros. and Downer's Drug Store or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, skinny, backward, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 Tablets—60 cents.

M. W. A. HAS PARTY ON ANNIVERSARY

Society Is 42 Years Old—Success of Event Leads to Plans for Another

Black Creek.—An enjoyable time was had Monday evening at the village hall by members of Modern Woodmen of America, camp 3181. The occasion was the celebration of the forty-second anniversary of society to gether with Washington's birthday. The evening was spent in playing schafkopf, Gust Schinke winning first prize. All members were present with the exception of the clerk and past consul. A lunch consisting of sauerkraut and wieners was served. The party was such a success that plans are being made for another affair in the near future, when the Royal Neighbors of America will also be invited. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Rofr of Seymour, had a narrow escape from injury Sunday evening when riding in the former's Oldsmobile sedan. They started up a steep hill south of Oneida on highway 54, while on their way home from Green Bay. Another car was ascending this hill just ahead of them. It skidded downward and the driver was not able to regain control. Mr. Bishop had to descend the hill to avoid being struck by the other car. By so doing he stopped his engine but got control when it started again. All were ready to jump. A small creek is at the foot of this hill and had lights placed there for a warning. Chains were put on the Oldsmobile for the remainder of the trip. Mrs. Alin Wilson entertained a few relatives Sunday at luncheon and dinner in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krauschaus, Oshkosh; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Krauschaus, Appleton; and Mr. and Mrs. George Wichman. Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Shaver entertained a few friends Friday evening, Feb. 20, at cards. Mrs. Otto Kringel won first prize and Mrs. Henry Bartsch won the consolation. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kluge and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartsch and children, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kringel and son. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kraus and son of Merrill, spent the weekend here; they made the trip by auto. Mr. and Mrs. William Bellock entertained neighbors and friends Sunday evening in honor of their son Edward's birthday anniversary. A daughter, Geneva, was born Saturday, Feb. 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Appleton Traxler. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Strassburger, Sheboygan, and Mrs. Walter Reineck, Elkhart Lake, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Strassburger, who with their guests and August Melchert and family attended the funeral of Mrs. Bert Dean at Seymour Sunday. Mrs. Roy Bates and sons of Schlo-

BLOSSOM TIME

"Blossom Time," enchanting musical offering which the Messrs. Schubert will present at the Appleton Theatre for a return engagement Wednesday night, March 11 is a musical treat of the finest calibre. It is the best musical play ever presented in this country and returns to this city with the great New York Century Theatre cast intact.

The story, based on the incidents in the life of Franz Schubert, is full of love, laughter and tears. Most of the musical numbers are Franz Schubert's adapted by Sigmund Romberg, who took great care to preserve all of the charm and exquisite melody of the famous composer's graceful "Serenade," "Song of Love," "Ave Maria," and the "Moment Musical."

"RAIN"

"Rain," the play that is entering upon its third year in New York, will be the attraction at Appleton Theatre Friday, Mar. 6.

So much has been said and written about this famous play of the South Seas that it is difficult to find a theatergoer who has not either seen it or has a strong desire to do so. Nothing like it has been presented in recent years, and it has caused more discussion than any play of the decade. The unusually heavy advance sale indicates that a record attendance will greet it here.

The cast has been sent on tour and is said to be really superb in every way, and was selected from the best that Broadway had to offer for this type of drama. The production, including the wonderful rain effect, is an exact duplicate of the New York production.

HAMILTON HERE IN FIVE REELS OF MERRIMENT

Got the blues? Well, drop into the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday, where they're playing "His Darker Self," and lose them. Here's a comedy that will delight your heart. It's Lloyd Hamilton's first full length picture and it's a side splitter.

The infatigable "Ham" has the part of Claude Sappington, an amateur sleuth who disguises as a darky to catch a murderer. The murderer is caught all right and Hamilton has a jolly time in burnt cork and negro habiliments. The picture is full of action and funny situations, with just enough pathos to serve as a foil for the humor.

Judging by this picture, Lloyd Hamilton is destined to join the ranks of Chaplin and Lloyd in making feature comedies. Hamilton's talents were aptly suited to this field. He is equally comical in both white or black face and his droll pantomime is shown to the best advantage. Tom O'Malley as Uncle Eph and Lucille LaVerne as Aunt Lucy do some expert character work. Sally Long is both clever and beautiful to look upon as Claude Sappington's sweet heart, and Tom Wilson is excellent as the bellicose Bill Jackson. Others in the cast who deserve praise are: Irma Harrison, Edna May Spier, Kate Bruce and Warren Cook.

The picture, based on an original

Heart Trouble or Indigestion?

Heartburn, Pressure Around Heart, Palpitation, A Feeling of Fullness, Shortness of Breath.

THIS SIMPLE 3-MINUTE TEST TELLS WHAT'S WRONG

While there are many people who really have Heart Trouble, there are many thousands more who are literally "scared to death" because they think they have it.

To live in constant fear of Heart Failure is a terrible handicap, especially when probably 90 per cent of the self-diagnosed Bad Heart symptoms—Palpitation, shortness of breath, difficult breathing, a feeling of fullness or pressure around the Heart—are mainly caused by a sour, gassy, upset stomach. To prove that this is true and that your past worries have been a sad mistake—simply make this three minute test and watch results!

From any good druggist obtain a couple ounces of pure Bisurated Magnesia (either powder or tablets) and beginning with tomorrow take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets immediately after each meal—and, if the usual distressing symptoms fail to appear, you may safely rest assured that you have found your trouble.

This is a pleasant, inexpensive test that seldom fails to relieve stomach distress, Gas, Sourness and Bloating—almost instantly, and a single trial proves its value. Be sure and ask Bisurated Magnesia, not a laxative. adv.

story by Arthur Caesar, called "Mammy's Boy," was directed by Jack Noble. It's the greatest little laugh provoker we've seen in a long time.

Two popular film players add greatly to their following in "The Snob." Monte Bell's Metro Goldwyn-Mayer production showing at the Elite Theatre for the last time tonight. They are John Gilbert and Norma Shearer, who have the leading roles in the picturization of Helen R. Martin's popular novel.

Gilbert, in the titular character of "The Snob," and Norma Shearer, as his long-suffering and forgiving wife, present finely-drawn, well balanced performances.

The story, which is most entertaining in Bell's hands, is mainly one of character development. Gilbert, as the snobbish, conceited instructor, plays the part with much sincerity and feeling. The supporting cast includes Conrad Nagel, Phyllis Haver, Hedda Hopper, Margaret Seddon, Alleen Manning.

Reginald Denny is coming to the Elite Theatre Saturday and Sunday in what is said to be the funniest screen vehicle in which that athletic star ever has appeared. The vehicle is no less than the Universal-Jewel screen version of "Oh, Doctor!" that screamingly humorous story by Harry Leon Wilson that ran as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post. Harry Pollard directed. The supporting cast includes Mary Astor, Lucille Ward, Ott Harlan, Win. V. Mong, Clarence G. Burt, Helen Lynch and Martha Mattox.

OCEAN SPIRITS PRINCE AWAY WHEN LOVE ATTACKS

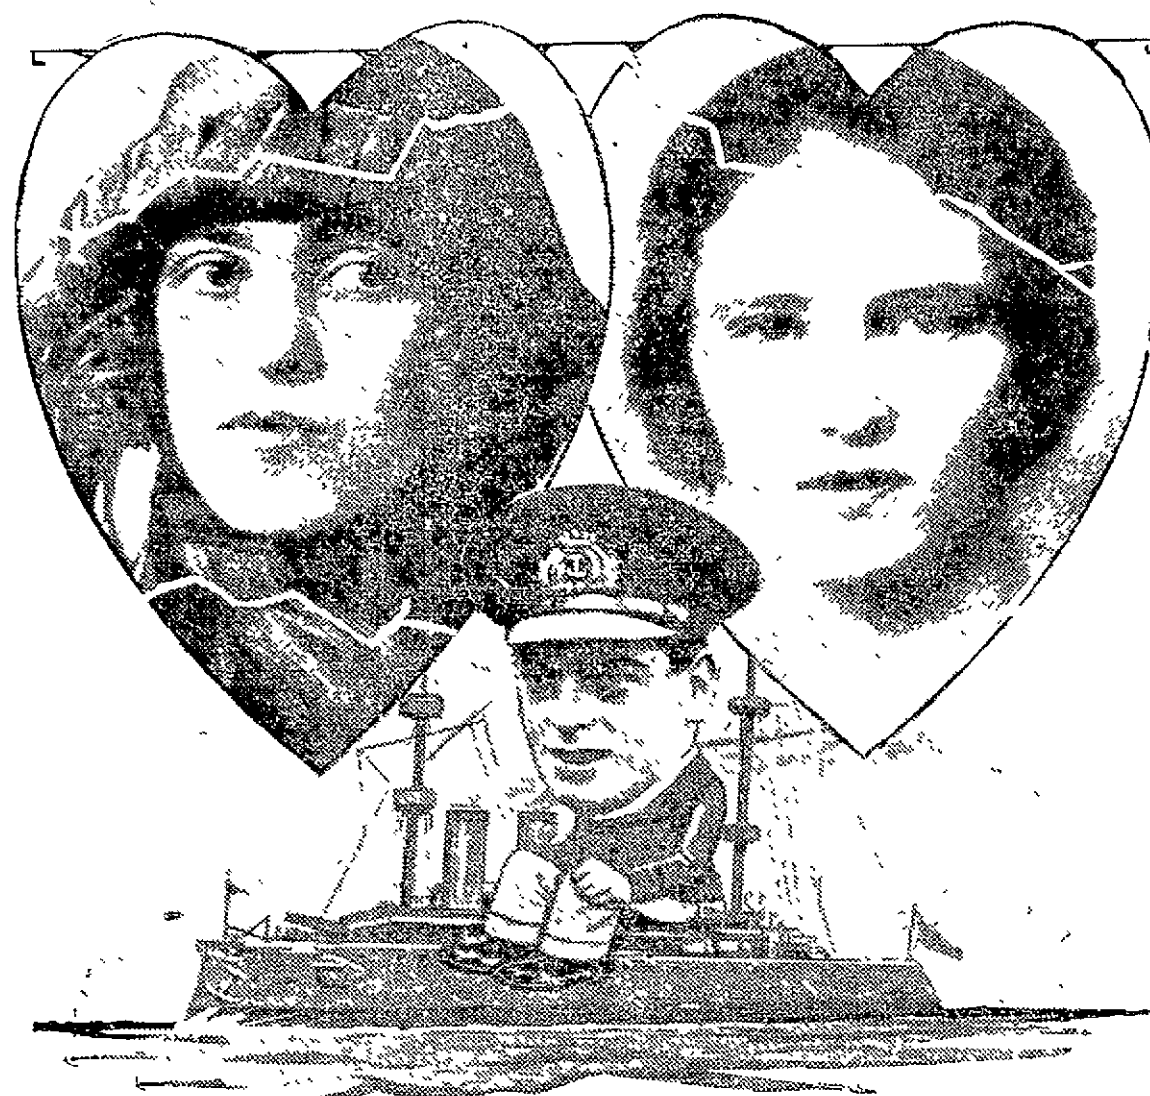

Five of America's leading girl swimmers have been in Bermuda for a special swimming meet. Their team consists mainly of playing in the sport in which they excel. Here is a fine action picture of a game of water polo between the Americans and a picked team of Bermuda stars. The Americans are all in the blue, of the ball for which Miss Gertrude Doolittle and a Bermuda player are striving. Immediately back of Miss Doolittle is Virginia Whitely and back of her is Helen Meaney. To the right in the foreground is Alton Hagen and behind her is Helen Whitworth.

Just to prove that those movie stunts aren't all faked, after all, this was snapped 'on location' near Hollywood and Eddie Gordon himself, not a double is walking the plank.

In England they have some queer animals for their early morning rides. This scene, however, proves the tale, for it shows a farmer at Ampthill in Bedfordshire out for an early canter on an Indian bull. Incidentally he trains these and llamas to the saddle.

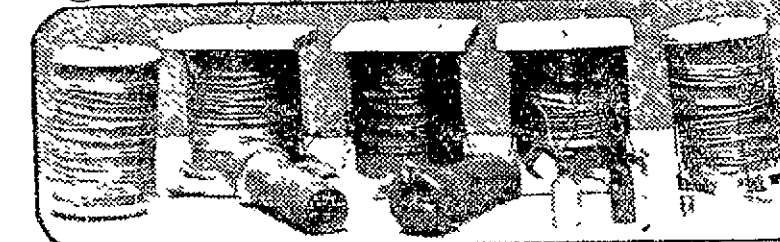

Whenever affairs of the heart begin to look serious for Prince George of England, they ship him away. Below shows H. R. H., and above two of the hearts he has left behind—Poppy Baring and Lady Cuzen (right).

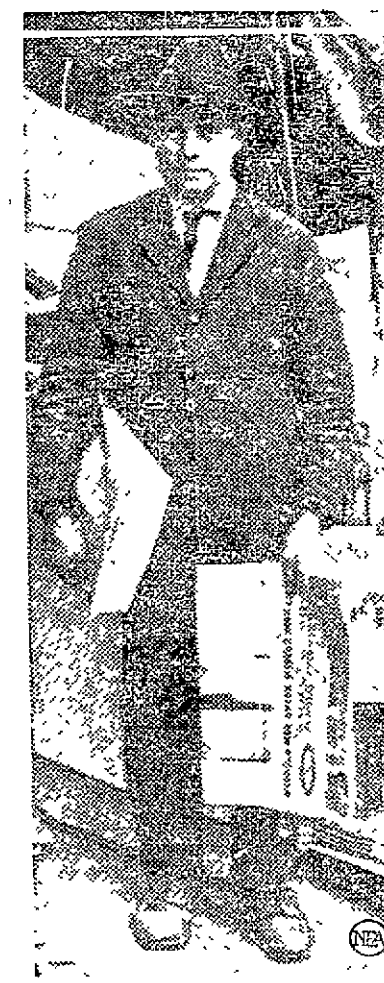

Ostriches may be able to eat barbed wire, and men may drink moonshine liquor—but when a puppy swallows a seven-inch pin there is plenty of trouble. But that is what "Brown Eyes," fox terrier, tried to get away with at his home in Pittsburgh. Dr. J. C. Gensberg removed the pin, and placed "Brown Eyes" on a strictly milk diet.

This is a blind man's cash register. It has been made especially in Dayton, O., for a sightless merchant. Brass strips attached to the adding wheels, with the numerals stamped on in Braille, enable its owner to read trains these and llamas to the saddle.

John Breen found a collection of what he thought were radio coils on the back step of his home in Boston. He hurled one of them into a pile of rubbish, where it exploded with terrific force, almost creating a panic among the 350 schoolchildren in an adjoining building. Breen and the remaining bombs are shown above. Boston police are investigating their source.

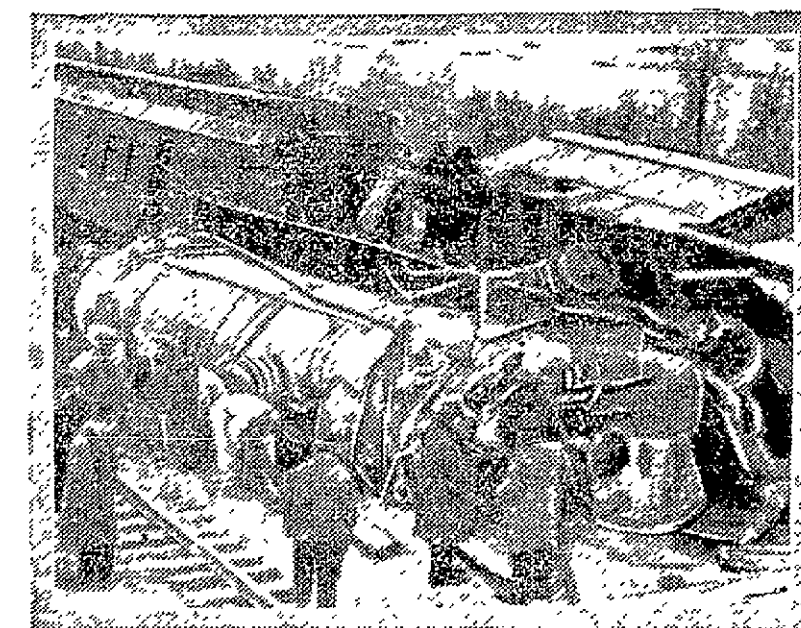

John Nordquist, who in his roving about the world acquired the name of "Jack the Liker," is having a hard time keeping his news stand in Des Moines, Ia. John aspired to be superintendent of public safety and ran against John Jenney, successful candidate for the job. Jenney now says Nordquist blocks the sidewalk with his news stand and the latter had to go to court to restrain the safety head from closing his stand.

In the worst air disaster in the history of English passenger flying, seven passengers were burned to death near Croydon, England. The plane had just taken off from Croydon on its way to Paris, when it was seen to burst into flames, and sheathed with fire, plunged nose first to earth, its charred passengers burned beyond recognition. Photo shows what was left of the plane.

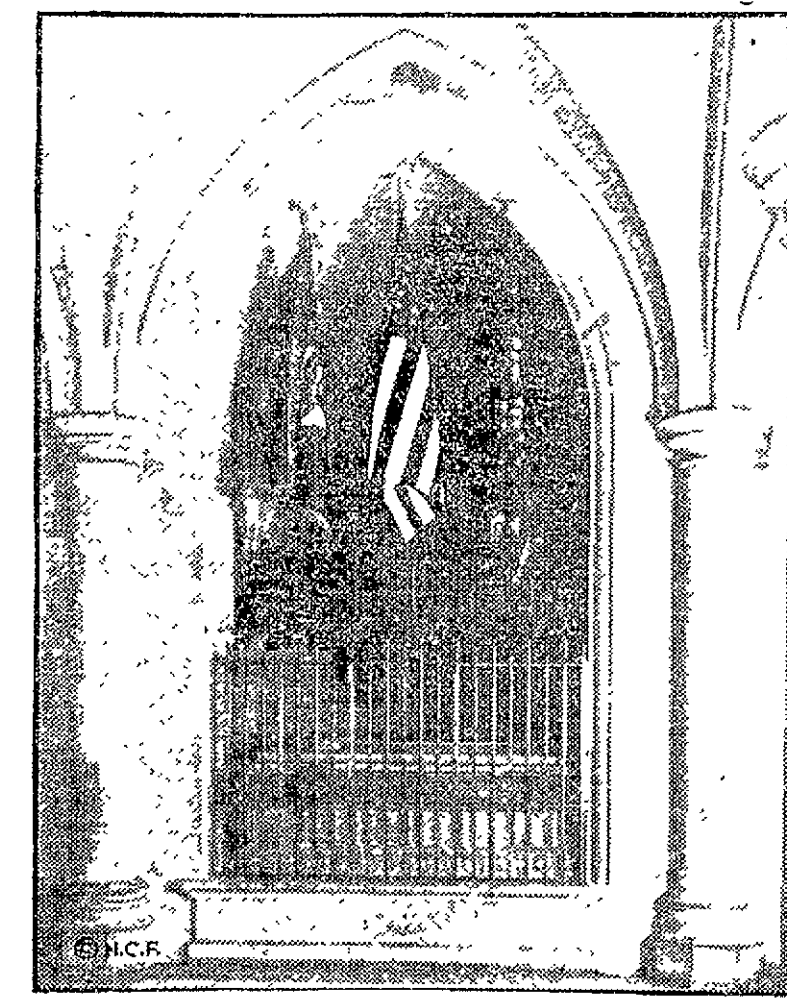

Picking up a pencil between their toes and writing their names legibly across a sheet of paper will be the final test put to a group of women students in the corrective foot class at Oklahoma College. Miss Marie Freeman is shown writing her examination. The exercises were designed to correct foot faults caused from high heels and narrow-toed shoes.

What was left of the wreck which killed six persons and injured 14 when a Missouri Pacific passenger train collided head on with a freight train seven miles northwest of Kansas City. The freight nearly rolled into the Missouri River, shown in background.

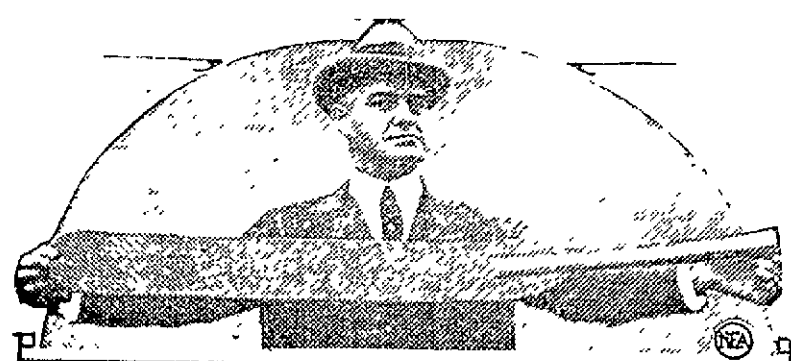

White robins are few and far between. Only about one out of every 10,000 robins turns out to be this color, say ornithologists. And here is one. Lillian Jones of Circleville, O., has sent it to the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens.

The sarcophagus for the late President Wilson has just been placed in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral. It is recessed in the south wall of the chapel. Three flags surmount the canopy, two of them being the "President's flags" presented by the government to each president, representing Mr. Wilson's two inaugurations. The third is the U. S. flag which was carried by the American troops when they marched through London. It is the first American flag ever saluted by an English king on English soil.

Flora Greenfield, the American soprano believes that only by living an outdoor life, can one reflect in her singing the beauties of nature. America wants strong vocal exhibition voices, and believes—not the voices with the decadent Oriental flavor, which so many of the best in the parlor singers reflect.

It is all right to beat convicts in Texas with the big old-fashioned State Representative T. K. Irwin of Dallas is seen holding here. The law allows it. But a negro to whom Irwin gave the strap was arrested for cruelty to animals when he lashed his mules with it. Irwin is fighting for the abolition of the flogging system.

CONTESTS ASSURED FOR FIVE OF SIX ALDERMEN'S JOBS

Three Supervisors Probably Will Not Be Opposed at April Election

The coming spring election may see several city offices uncontested, for as yet there is little to indicate that there will be very many candidates in the field.

The primaries will be held on Mar. 21 for the selection of two candidates for each office to be voted upon in the ward election April 7. Prospective candidates have but a week and a half left in which to throw their hats into the ring, for the period for filing nomination papers will close Mar. 9.

Twelve officers, six aldermen and six county supervisors, one from each ward, are to be chosen. It is probable that the city council next Wednesday evening will lengthen the term of supervisors to two years instead of one. Appleton, Kaukauna and New London will have no part in the election of a county superintendent of schools. A. G. Meating, incumbent, who is circulating nomination papers for reelection, seems to be the only candidate in the field.

In the aldermanic contest, the race has already been started in the first ward by Howell G. Thomas, realtor, the first candidate to file nomination papers. Alderman L. O. Hansen will not be a candidate for reelection, it was declared some time ago. Some one also is circulating nomination papers for Attorney Mark Catlin, J. A. Wood, former alderman from that ward, was urged to reenter the field, but he declined in favor of Mr. Catlin. Another candidate that this ward is said to be promoting is August Lauba, 1043 E. North-st., who, however, is not the August Lauba that represented the Third ward for a number of years.

Alderman William Eggert, proprietor of the Eggert hotel, Second ward, who was chosen by the common council to fill the unexpired term of John Lippert last summer, is a representative of organized labor in the council, and seems to have the whole field to himself this year, for there has been practically no stir among the possible rivals.

More of a contest is expected to develop in the Third ward. Frank K. Pachman, one of the proprietors of the Recreation hall, who withdrew in favor of Alderman C. Smith is likely to be pitted against the same candidate in greater earnest this year. Another potential candidate is Julius Schmidt, 331 S. Cherry-st.

Alderman R. F. McMillan of the Fourth ward is likely to have opposition from former Alderman William Murphy. William Gust, a last year's candidate has denied reports that he will be in the field again. Future also has it that George (Dutch) Frauligan of baseball fame will be in the race.

In the Fifth ward, Charles Fose who has the longest service record in the council, will be up for reelection. W. H. Vanderhyden, 322 N. Richmond-st., is mentioned as possible opponent. Another possible candidate is D. B. Wachow of the Appleton Monument works.

Three former colleagues of the common council are likely to be matched against each other in the Sixth ward contest. The term of Alderman F. R. Beske expires this year, and competition is seen in the persons of J. H. Fleider, former alderman of that ward, and John Tappen, former alderman from the Second ward who moved into the Sixth last summer. Philip West also has filed papers for this office.

Less of a contest is likely to develop over the offices of county supervisor. Little talk has been heard of possible opposition for Supervisors L. F. Bushey, First ward, T. H. Ryan, Second ward, Louis Jens, Sixth ward, John Kohl, last year's candidate whose name was omitted from Fifth ward ballots by mistake may oppose Peter Rademacher, incumbent. In the Fourth ward, Michael Jacobs who has opposed John

Answering Fool Questions Is Daily Routine In Life Of Railroad Depot Agent

Does the 4:10 train leave at 4:10 or 3:45? Sounds like a foolish question and easy to answer, but after dozens and dozens of it, any normal person might be expected to lose his patience and wish the speaker all sorts of evil. That's the hard life of a railroad station agent! A New York station agent has kept a book of the foolish questions asked of him by travelers or the last 25 years and a reader is reminded of a comic supplement that never ends. And every question in the book is different from its fellows.

Appleton station agents are trying this plan and find that questions such as the above are the most frequent. Many travelers wished to be assured that the 4:10 train comes at 4:10 and not at any other time and that the railroad company is not "kidding."

Still others ask, "What time does the 2:15 train leave?" and when the polite agent responds, "A quarter of three, m'am," they hang up with a pleasant, "Thank you ever so much."

Another friend of the agent is the man who calls up at 8 o'clock in the morning to find out if the train which is scheduled to arrive at 4 o'clock in the afternoon is on time.

WHAT'S FARE TO OHIO? Carelessness and forgetting that the station agent does not know what the traveler has in mind without being told, are two of the biggest reasons for foolish questions, according to railroad employees here. Questions such as "what's the fare to Michigan?" and "what time does the train leave for Indiana?" are good examples of carelessness. The speaker forgets that Indiana and Michigan are states, containing many cities, towns and villages. Beside this there are two ways of reaching Michigan, one by traveling north, another by going south. Another person will ask about a southbound train and then ask where he can get it. Of course the train will not run up town or to his office for his convenience and the only place to get it is at the depot. What the man that asked the question really wished to know was if he could catch the train at the depot or if he had to go to the junction.

A question that is asked about 100 times a day, according to the agents is, "What time does that train leave?" The questioner is thinking of a certain train, but does not designate it, leaving the agent very much in the dark. A foreigner asked for a train to La Velle, Iowa. After the agent had looked over the large complete map made especially for railroads, and informed his patron that no such place was located on any railroad of the country, he replied in foreign accents, "Well, have you got some place just like it or just as good?"

HOW IT'S DONE One patron asked, "How can I go to Minneapolis through Chicago, without going to Chicago?" While this seemed like an impossible proceeding further questioning on the part of the agent, helped the traveler out. She held a round trip ticket from Minneapolis to Chicago and had stopped at Appleton on the way. Now she wanted to go back to Minneapolis direct from this city and was puzzled how she was going to accomplish the feat when her round-trip ticket called for Minneapolis to Chicago and return. She was soon satisfied.

Another funny incident was that of a man who called up from a Wisconsin city and claimed he had been shortchanged at one of the local depots. He argued that he had been cheated out of a dollar and some cents in change. Why he had paid a $5 bill for a $3.40 ticket and had received only $1.60 back! After about

Women's Silk Hosiery Two Exceptional Values Here!

Women are learning that they can buy excellent silk hose here for less money than they would have to pay at other stores which do not have our advantage of buying in large amounts. Our contracts with one of the largest hosiery mills in the country enable us to offer you exceptional values at low prices. Here are two of our most popular numbers in silk hosiery for women.

Extra Fine Silk Hosiery

Here is one of our best hosiery values which is proving very popular among the hundreds of thousands of women who buy their hosiery in the J. C. Penney Company Stores all over the country.

In Black and the Wanted Colors

Made of four strand silk thread with an extra heavy thread of fibre to assure wear. This hose has been knit to fit! It fits the ankle trimly.

The price is remarkable!

SPENGLER ELECTED
CHAIRMAN OF NEW
RECREATION BOARD

Playground Director Will Be Called to Menasha for Interview

Menasha—Attorney Silas L. Spengler was elected chairman and Jacob Loeffel was elected secretary of the new recreation council at its first meeting in the city offices Thursday morning. Mayor N. G. Remmel presided at the opening of the meeting and suggested that a chairman and secretary be selected at once. His suggestion was carried out and he turned the meeting over to the new chairman.

The program and budget of the Menasha playground and recreation system was read and discussed for the information of the new members after which the appointment of a salaried director was considered.

Several men were suggested but there was one in particular whom the members looked upon favorably and it was decided to have him come to Menasha for an interview. He had had several years experience in playground work in Chicago and is well qualified. It is planned to call the next meeting during his visit here.

The new recreation council is composed of Mayor N. G. Remmel, City Clerk J. F. DeCaro, Alderman Gus E. Fahrenkrug, Jacob Loeffel, F. E. Sennelreiner, Michael Zeleni, Mr. and Mrs. Silas L. Spengler. Acting as the council is an advisory committee composed of Mrs. Krutze Hine, Mrs. T. E. McGillion, Mrs. F. M. Corr, Mrs. Joseph Veson, Mrs. F. E. Sennelreiner, Mrs. George Pierce, and Mrs. G. W. Jettabry.

SET ASIDE VERDICT
AGAINST STATE BANK

Courts Order Another Trial of Milwaukee Woman's Suit
for $800

Neenah—A new trial has been granted in circuit court in the case of Anna Gureh of Milwaukee vs the Neenah State bank. This information was received by George Kelly, attorney for the bank Friday morning from the judge who also ordered the special verdict rendered on Feb. 3, to be set aside as well as allowing a new trial on the grounds that the answers in the verdict are against a fair preponderance of the evidence and also of the misconduct of one of the jury during the trial.

This is the case in which the Milwaukee woman sued the bank for $800 which she claimed the bank would not pay. The bank on the other hand claimed the husband had taken the money out of the bank and had not informed the wife.

CAN'T LOCATE LEAK IN FILLING STATION TANK

One's Hopes Dashed By Corner Dates

QUESTIONS-ANSWERS
Dear Miss Grey: I am in love with a man who is unhappily married. His wife does not understand him, or give him the sort of companionship he needs. Under the circumstances, is it wrong of me to see him occasionally. He says I give him the understanding he needs—Frederica B.
How do you know whether or not the man's wife understands him? The chances are that she knows him from cover to cover, like a book that has been read. This is the sort of story nine men out of ten tell to "the other woman." Don't be fooled by it. And put the man out of your life.

Dear Miss Grey: My mother and I live alone in a tiny flat that is shabbily furnished. I am ashamed to ask a man I recently met at a dance to call upon me there, and so I meet him on the street. Is there anything wrong in that? I want him to think well of me.—In Love
He won't think well of you, however if you continue to meet him on street corners. He'll class you among the kind of girls a man meets at a dance and shirks with afterward. You don't want that, do you? What if your home is shabby? That won't make any difference to a sensible person.

Dear Cynthia: I have been teaching in a girls' school for five years. One of my little pupils has no mother. Her father is a most attractive man, and he has made it a point to ask me to have dinner with him and his little girl several times lately. He comes to see me at the school, too, under the guise of asking how his child is getting along. I think he is going to ask me to marry him. The thing that worries me is that he has wealth and social position. Do you think I would fit in with his life, and among his friends—School Ma'am?
I see no reason why you shouldn't. The social position of school teachers is surely as good as anyone's social position. And the possession of wealth makes very little difference in people who are sensible and well bred.

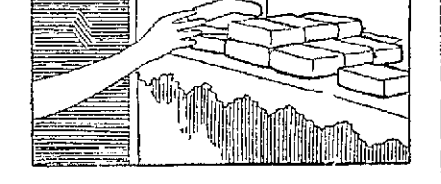

Household Hints

BAKED POTATOES
Baked potatoes served with cream and salt or with milk gravy make a most satisfying meal for small children.

CHOPPED DATES
Chopped dates, raisins or other dried fruits are quite as delicious as fresh fruits to be added to the morning cereal for variety's sake.

BREAKFAST DISH
Sausage and fried apples make a delicious breakfast dish for very cold days.

BUY QUANTITY
Soap really improves and hardens with keeping, hence it is economy to buy it in quantity and keep it on hand.

FOR WASTE BASKET
Keep a piece of oilcloth in the bottom of the waste basket you use in the bathroom or kitchen. This will prevent liquids or powders that might get into the container from soaking through.

MARKING LINEN
If you are marking handkerchiefs or table linen with indelible ink you will find it advantageous to stretch the material in an embroidery frame so as to have a perfectly smooth surface.

SEAR ROASTS
It is well to sear a small roast by holding each part of its surface in turn on a hot frying pan. If this is done less heat is required in the oven.

How To Make Homes Cozy
PUT COLOR ON CHAIR SEAT
A cane chair seat is a good place to place a colorful covering especially made to fit. Cover with striped denim with attractive coloring and design and this will lend atmosphere and beauty to the room.

ings and blockings to be put out of our lives and the grave closed and sealed.
I wonder if some day there will come a time when I will remember this conversation? I guess I am too greedy of happiness, too wishful of joy. That is the reason I am afraid of what time will bring to me.
I presume I want John to be a superman—and I am far from being a superwoman.
I was brought out of my sad reverie by John's saying:
"Dearest, I hate to leave you, but we must telegraph to Alice and Karl" by the way he repeated Karl's name I knew that as far as he was concerned, all was to be a sealed book in the future.
"I am also going to telegraph to Sydney Carton if you don't mind. We've always been such great friends and I, too, feel the need of someone to counsel with just at this time."
"Your father, Leslie, has placed a great responsibility upon me, and he has asked me to share it with no one, not even Karl."
"He has asked you to take charge of the business?" I said quickly.
"Yes, dear."
Before he could tell me more, he was called away.
"You see, dear, this is going to make a great change in all our lives. I will write you some more when it is all over."

Keeps Up Traditions Of Family By R.R. Film

FRANCIS TEAGUE

Hollywood—Here's a girl who has virtually been railroaded into the movies—Frances Teague.
Her great-grandfather, William Teague, furnished the teams for grading the roadbed for the first rail line into California.
Her grandfather John Francis Teague was the first fireman and then engineer on the old C. P. Huntington locomotive No. 1 the first engine that ran in and out of Sacramento on the Central Pacific.
Her father, Walter D. Teague, has been in the service of the Southern Pacific, which absorbed the Central Pacific, for the past 26 years.
Now Frances prominent socially in San Francisco before her venture into films, has been cast for the leading feminine role in "The Iron Horse," a Fox special which is to portray the drama of spanning the continent by rail.

After 12 years of wide stage and screen experience on both sides the Atlantic, Maurice Elvey, English motion picture director, has returned to the United States because, "Life here despite savings as to particular restrictions, is so much freer."
"Aside from prohibition there is more liberty of expression all around than anywhere in Europe," says Elvey, now engaged in filming

The Tangle

Convolusely I threw my arms around John's neck as there came to me the thought of that certain day when there must be separation between us.
"Every day I shall pray," I said, "that death shall take me first."
"Leslie, Leslie, you must not give way like this, dear, you will make yourself sick."
"But it is so cruel to separate those two people I cannot, even now when we have been such a short time together, contemplate a life without you. Think how much more tragic it is for mother, of whose life dad had become an integral part."
John drew me closer in a way which told me that he, too, could not think of life without me. It was a moment I think when all false pride left both of us—a moment in which we knew how dependent we were upon each other.
"But then will it mean to us in the future, dear?" I asked when you have grown more necessary to me than now? I could not bear it—I knew I could not.
"Yes, yes you could my girl, for you can't let what all widows of the world before you have borne. But you must not think of that now, dear heart. We have years and years together and we must plan all the good in life. He and I must bring that dear mother, yours into them as far as she's come, and we must love to the uttermost and live all there is to live in every 24 hours so that when the time comes when the hours can no more be counted together, we can say to death 'The joy I have had, you cannot take from me.'"
"Leslie, dear, let's have no more misunderstandings."
Gently I put my hand over his mouth. I did not want him to share himself. I wanted all our quarrels

Health Hints

FOUNDATION OF HEALTH
Mrs. Mann of Anytown had already learned in her study of food for health's sake, that the foundation for health is started in infancy.
But if the child's body, and all the organs are right, there still is a chance of endangering the future health of the child by improper feeding.
Some mothers think it would be almost fatal to give a child, under six months old, anything except milk.
It is known, however, that the child grows stronger and faster if orange or tomato juice is given by the second month, and vegetable juice by the fifth or sixth month.
Cereals, well cooked, may be introduced into the diet of the child by the seven or eighth month. The amount of fruit juice and vegetable juice may be increased by this time.
During the first part of the second year mashed potatoes may be given, a small amount at a time.
Do not let the baby taste of the adult's food. Keep his diet simple, and the chances are that many diseases common to the adult, will have been avoided.

FASHION HINTS

NOVEL TUNICS
Very novel tunics are made of a combination of crepe de chine and suede cloth in the same color.

SILK COATS
Embroidered silk coats with fur borders are shown for spring wear.

ERMINÉ BAG
An interesting accessory from Paris—a handbag of ermine with a gold top.

SPORT COSTUMES
Yellow velveteen is used very successfully to make sport costumes and separate jackets to be worn with pleated skirts.

PUNCHED LEATHER
Punched leather and applique designs cut from leather are favorite methods of trimming.

LONG-WAISTED SLIPS
The newest combinations and slips are long waisted to follow the line of the popular dress models.

EVENING GOWNS
Brown tulle and brown chiffon are occasionally seen in collections of evening gowns, usually decorated with gold embroidery or a gold sash.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE SNOW MAN'S WISH
"Do you know any more people who are wishing things?" asked the Fairy Queen.
"Oh, yes! Lots!" said Nick. "The Snow Man was wishing that he could be inside where the children play and where the fire is. He says he gets lonesome outside in the yard. No one ever stays to keep him company."
"That's true," said the Fairy Queen, "but then there is a place for everybody in the world, and I'm afraid that indoors is not the place for Mr. Snow Man."
"He was so lonesome," said Nancy, "that we promised to speak to you about it."
"That was right," nodded the Fairy Queen, "and I shall do what I can. But I'm afraid it's just one more lesson to learn. Wishes usually turn out that way."
They all got on Two Spot, the blue-velvet butterfly, who didn't mind winter weather, and flew way to the place where Mr. Snow Man was standing in a field.
In spite of his loneliness he was smiling pleasantly. His little pebble eyes under his dishpan hat seemed to say, "No matter what happens, we'll be merry."
"Why I expected to find you in tears," said the Fairy Queen.
"Oh, no! I only cry when the sun comes out, Madam," said the Snow Man.
"Don't you know," said the Fairy Queen, "that you are not really crying but melting, my dear sir. That you cannot stand heat at all! Yet the

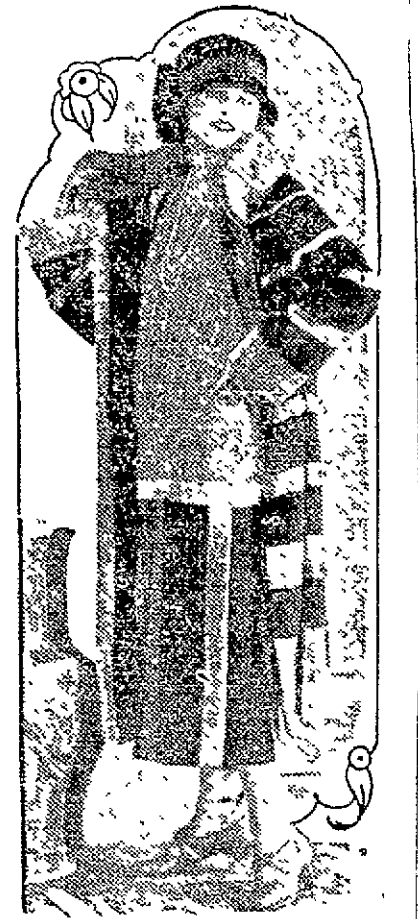

Safety Hints

BE CAREFUL OF FALLING

If there is a small rug at the top of your stairs, kick it down. If the rug should slip under you, you might fall down the stairs. Be careful in climbing into the bathtub. Many are injured this way. Loose hems on skirts, in which women's high heels might get caught, are another hazard.

Three-Piece Costume

Here is a three-piece costume of the type that is to be extremely fashionable this winter. The coat and skirt are of black and gray striped velvet brocade, and the long, straight blouse is of gray. The coat is so long that it may easily be worn as a wrap with other gowns while the blouse and skirt give the effect of a complete costume without the wrap. The smartest suit coats are very long and follow the straight, comfortable lines of this one.

children say that you told them that you would like to live indoors and be like other people.

Mr. Snow Man's eyes still looked merry but he answered sadly, "Well, I should rather die happy than live miserably. I want to be where there are people and children in the house. I don't want to stay out here with nobody but the moon and stars at night and the sun by day, with only the children coming to see me once in a long while."

The Fairy Queen's heart was touched. "All right," said she, "I shall arrange to have you taken indoors. But remember if anything happens, I have warned you."
"Come, children," said the Fairy Queen to the Twins. So they all flew away on Two Spot toward the house where the children lived.
And right on the smooth snow on the lawn where everybody could see it, the Fairy Queen wrote a message. "Please take me into the house. I am very lonesome out in the field."

Mr. Snow Man saw the message they cried, "Oh, ho! If the Snow Man can get this far to write us a letter, why didn't he come right into the house himself?"
But children get accustomed to, strange things happening, and they asked no more questions.
They got their sled and coasted down the hill to the place where the Snow Man stood.
"We're going to take you home!" they shouted joyously.
Mr. Snow Man's little eyes twinkled and twinkled.

"Shoulders that droop and feet that drag"

THERE are men and women who seem to be eternally tired. They go about things in a listless sort of way. They try, but they can't seem to make the grade. Perhaps they do not realize that it is constipation which is sapping their energy.

There is a sure relief from this disease. It is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN goes completely through the system without changing its fiber. It sweeps the intestine clean, purifies it, absorbs and carries moisture through it, urges it to act exactly as nature intended. Unlike habit-forming pills and drugs, it is never necessary to increase the amount of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN which you first find effective.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regain your health and keep you feeling fit. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat your two tablespoonfuls with milk or cream; sprinkle it over other cereals, cook it with hot cereals, put it in soups and try it in the recipes given on every package.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—for only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

1,400 PRESENT AT KIMBERLY PARTY

Safety Division Gives Elaborate Costume Dance for Employees of Mill

Special to Post-Crescent
Kimberly—The most successful party which has yet been put on in Kimberly clubhouse was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 24, by the green division of the Kimberly-Clark safety contest for the employees of the mill.

Over 1,400 people attended the party. The decorations and program were under the direction of Miss Lydia Bouress and Arthur Wakeman. The hall was decorated with crepe paper of every color. The decorations were the most beautiful that have yet been seen in the clubhouse.

Music was furnished by Gih Horst orchestra of Rainbow Gardens. There were also several vaudeville acts between the dances.

Prizes were won by C. Tubbs, H. Otto, Mr. and Mrs. V. Ames, J. Perry, H. Rothschild, J. Rosmalt, E. Denyer, F. Hohman, E. Poca, L. Thein, Mr. Verhagen, M. Van Gump, N. Brown, O. Hart, G. Vandenberg, J. Vandenberg, Mrs. G. Vandenberg.

There were costumes of every color and design, all of which were beautiful.

The opening services of lent were held Wednesday morning, Feb. 25, at Holy Name church, when a high mass was sung. Services were held at 7:30 in the evening in the church. The sermon was given by the Rev. F. X. Van Nistelrooy, who explained the purposes and value of the lenten season. Services will be held at 7:30 Friday evening.

Word has been received here that the Rev. A. Broekman, who was formerly assistant pastor at Holy Name church at Kimberly has been transferred to Shawano, where he will have a parish of his own. Father Broekman is now at Manitowish. The transfer will take place March 4, 1925.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church met Thursday, Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. J. Demarest.

Twenty-five couples attended a party given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Senkuel, North Pine st. The evening was spent in dancing. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smits, Mr. and Mrs. Van Landghen, Mr. and Mrs. Van Der Weilen, Walter Van Eperen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van De Voort, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Der Helden, Mrs. Peter Van Der Weilen, Mrs. Anton DeWilt, Mrs. Alvin Wotagat, Fred Van Landghen, Miss Alvin Van Landghen, Miss Alvin, Miss Goss, Miss De Wit, Miss Johanna Jansen, Miss Dora Weyenberg, Arthur DeWilt, George Martin and Joseph Van Der Volden, Charles Belling, John Smits, Fred Haride, Edward, Max and Frank Van DenBogaard, Misses Katherine and Dorothy VanNuland, Nellie, Marie and Frances Van Der Wellen, all of Kimberly, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pennenberg, Arthur and Martha Van Boven, Miss Katherine Pennenberg, all of Little Chute.

Dances, Brighton, Sun. Nite, Mellorimba Orchestra.

PEDIGREED POULTRY IS STATE AIM FOR WAUPACA

Waupaca—Central Wisconsin hatchery, a new local enterprise started last year under the management of Ralph Hagg, formerly with the Old National bank, is now entering its second year. The large incubators are all loaded with eggs from local accredited flocks. Poultry raisers receive the flocks after having passed certain standards. This year the Wisconsin department of markets sent Mr. Van Galder and H. M. Lackie to conduct the inspection, who with Waupaca County Brooder association hope to bring Waupaca up to a high rank as a producer of quality poultry.

Lars Gunderson, Nels Olson and Ole Peterson of Scandinavia, were in the city Monday on business.

Mrs. A. C. Howell and daughter Alice were guests of M. J. Johnson Monday, and returned to their home in Fond du Lac, Tuesday.

Harry Farley, a dealer in real estate at Weyauwega transacted business in the city Monday.

A. J. Murphy spent the weekend at his home in Oshkosh, returning to the city Monday morning.

Miss Estella Stone was in Weyauwega Sunday at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Stone.

Miss Frieda Klein and Miss Anna Koblske of Weyauwega and Miss Marie Klein of Appleton, called on friends in the city Saturday evening.

Charles Yost of Oshkosh, drove to the city Saturday afternoon to spend the weekend with friends and returned home Monday.

Local banks were closed Monday in observance of Washington's birthday. Other places of business, however, remained open.

Mrs. Andrew Sanders of Milwaukee was visiting her brother, F. H. Haskins, at Wisconsin Veterans Home the past week.

Miss Alvin Skillman is taking a week's vacation from her duties at the Fair Store and is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Benganske at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Edward W. Nelson entertained at bridge at her home on Badger st. Saturday afternoon.

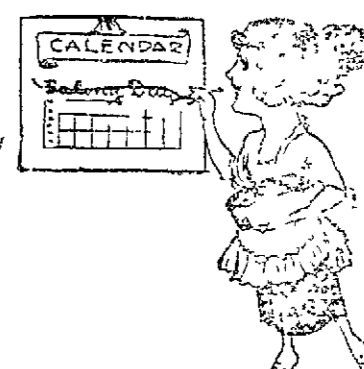

Fred Hoss gave a stag schaffkop card party at his home on School st. Saturday night to 24 friends. Frank Housman won first prize, and Fred Rosche, the consolation.

Mrs. Frank Scheller of Almond, spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Chesley, W. Patton st.

WORLD'S POLICE SECRETS

John Edgar Mayer, N. Y. C. Police Dept.

"THE THINGS that have never been told" — those absorbing mysteries gathered from the confidential files of the great police departments of Europe and America—are now published for Sunday Milwaukee Journal readers in the

16-Page 4-Color Magazine Section Starting Sunday, March 1st

Be Sure to Read the First Case—
The Strange Affair of the Birds and a Murder

The New York detective sergeant might have gone for his stroll while he waited for his appointment at the Bureau of Police Jurisdiction, either to the right, or to the left. One way, he would have come to the Via Roma, a busy street flanked with the shops of butchers and bakers, with a leaven of old book stalls.

But he turned to the right, and came into the Via Garibaldi, a street of the fifteenth century palaces where dogs used to punctuate their romances with poison and daggers. And at the end of Via Garibaldi the detective sergeant from New York stopped short, and muttered an oath! Before him, in the bright sunlight, that flooded the square of the great Annunziata church, stretched a MURDER TRAIL for which Scotland Yard and the New York police had fruitlessly searched the world!

Sergeant's Mayer's thrills, disappointments, triumphs in this absorbing mystery can be shared by every reader of

The Sunday Milwaukee Journal next Sunday! This is the first of a series of famous detective cases—actual facts—which have until now remained locked in the secret archives of the world's police headquarters! Each story is complete in itself. The first is a genuine thriller but no less absorbing are the remainder of the series to be published one each Sunday in the 16-page, four-color magazine! These stories are each splendidly illustrated with pictures of the principals in each case!

LAWRENTIANS DEFEAT KNOX QUINTET, 28 TO 16

Blues Clinch Claim On Midwest Title By Defeating Invaders

Siwash Cagers Start Out With Rush but Never Threaten
After Denney Tribe Gets Going

By defeating Knox college 28 to 16, Lawrence Thursday night clinched its grip on the championship of the Midwest conference. The crowd was not as large as at other recent games but many of the fans were waiting for the Carroll-Lawrence game Friday night which is expected to be the hardest-fought of the season. In a preliminary contest a quintet of former Appleton high school players defeated the Lawrence freshmen, 33 to 6. Hillman and Courtney were forwards, Bieler center, and Hieble and Fraser guards. At the end of the half they were leading, 7 to 4, and the frosh were never close enough to threaten their rivals.

The Siwash five started with a rush and during the first ten minutes of play took a 6 to 2 lead. But in the middle of the first half the Lawrentians untroubled and by the end of the half had advanced to an 18 to 3 advantage, every man on the team with the exception of Ashman having scored at least once. Ashman and Zussman each had several close chances but the ball bounded off the hoop or dropped off the wrong side after rolling to the edge.

In the second half Knox tightened its defense and played almost as well as the Lawrentians, but not well enough to overtake them or even keep the relative distance. Each side caged the ball four times from the field but in addition Heldeman made two freethrows.

Briese and Kotal starred for the Blues although every man on the team played an excellent game, and the team work was nearly perfect.

Hobbs and Trevor did most of the scoring for the Siwash collegians.

FIRST HALF

Zussman took a close shot immediately after the tipup, but missed it and after several minutes of futile passing, Knox got the ball. Hobbs drove down the court and dropped the ball through the hoop for the first basket, followed a moment later by Trevor. This woke the Lawrentians up, and Kotal dribbled down the floor and under the basket from where he caged the sphere. A moment later he fouled Captain Christopher, who missed the freethrow.

Trevor caged his second basket after a series of fast and brilliant passes, he had given him an open shot. Then Zussman and Kotal eluded their opponents long enough to get under the basket for two more shots, and Briese caged a freethrow which made the score 7 to 6 in favor of Lawrence. Heldeman tried one from the middle of the floor which found the mark, and Briese raced down the length of the floor to shoot the ball through from directly under the ring. Poole added a point to the Knox score with a freethrow on Ashman's foul.

Encouraged by his previous success, Briese passed the ball on the run and Kotal shot it back to him after he had passed the Knox defense, when Poole dribbled the rest of the way and caged from under the basket. He pulled this trick four times in quick succession during the first half and in addition made a freethrow after Hobbs fouled him. Poole also made a foulthrow on Zussman's offense, but Jake came back with two on Hobbs' foul after the half had ended.

SECOND HALF

Hobbs started scoring in the second half as he had in the first, taking a long chance with perfect aim after several minutes of play. Intervals between shots were much longer during the second half than they had been in the first, both teams having tightened their defense. Lawrence had the ball most of the time and forced the Knoxmen to invade their territory. Ashman took a long chance after about ten minutes of play, sending the ball through with out touching, and a few seconds later Heldeman followed suit. Two freethrows by Heldeman on Poole's foul put Lawrence ahead, 24 to 10.

Then Hobbs and Trevor attempted a little rally, Hobbs making two close shots and Trevor a long one. But meanwhile Ashman had dribbled under the basket and made another shot, and just before the final gun shot, off Bruce repeated his previous attempt to cage another.

The lineups:
Knox: R. F. Hobbs, L. F. Trevor, L. F. C. Van Norman, R. G. Poole, L. G. Christopher (c).
Lawrence: H. Heldeman, C. L. F. C. Ashman, C. Kotal, R. G. Priese, L. G.

Substitutions—Groves for Ashman, Clark for Heldeman, Johnson for Zussman, Umpires, Davis, Wisconsin; referee, Johnson, Wisconsin.

Friday night Lawrence clinches with Carroll in a game which is expected to be the closest and hardest of the year. Carroll has beaten Lawrence once this season, and the Blues are determined to even the score. Chances are doped to be about even, and interest in the game is running high. Tickets are on sale at Hollings drug store and Basings Appleton sport shop.

Friday's game will start at 8 o'clock. Lewis of Wisconsin will referee, and with him officiating fans will have no reason to complain. Lewis and Barber had been engaged

Hoeppe Takes Step Towards Cue Kingship

H. Hoeppe Thursday night defeated L. Drucier, both of Appleton, 100 to 97, in the eleventh match of the Fox River valley pocket billiard tournament at the Carr, Hansen and Pindle parlors. The contest was the closest of the tournament. Both men were undefeated in previous games, and the victor gives Hoeppe a strong chance at the championship. The men were cautious and played many safeties. Hoeppe scored a high run when he clipped off 21 shots without a miss. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The next match is scheduled for 8:30 Monday night, when A. Selig, Appleton, crosses cues with J. Dravenack of Kaukauna. Admission will be free.

MUELLER BOOTS WIN LISTLESS PIN MATCH

Kaukauna—Mueller Boots worned out of the cellar in the city bowling league Thursday evening when they defeated Combined Locks in three straight games in a listless match. The boots now are tied with Busch-Flynn for last place. Not one of the Locks bowlers gained a total of more than 400. Wednesday evening Ruch Flynn topped three straight from the city Electric Department. Scores:

SOUTH SIDE QUINTET SWAMPS FIFTH WARD

South Side grade school cagers Thursday night swamped the Fifth ward quintet, 25 to 7, in a grade school league game in the South Side gymnasium. The South Siders were leading, 15 to 2, at half time, and outplayed their rivals in every department.

Friday evening they meet the invading Kaukauna grade schoolers, while the South Side second stringers play the Sacred Heart school quint in the opener.

New York—Jack Delaney, Bridgeport, Conn. light heavyweight knocked out Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, Ga., in the fourth round, making his second knockout victory over the Negro in two months.

Delaney at Thursday's contest but being unable to get away they sent Davis and Johnson as substitutes and the result was not up to expectations.

SCHAEFER BREAKS BILLIARD MARKS

Former Champion Makes Run of 400 from Spot in Match
With Hagenlacher

Chicago — Jake Schaefer, former world's 182 ball line billiards champion, has made himself the favorite to take the crown from Willie Hoppe, defending titlist, in the international tournament here, by a display of unprecedented form before which records have crashed. They are tied for leadership in the standing.

Erich Hagenlacher spent all Thursday evening sitting in a chair during his match with Schaefer, while the former champion broke all world's billiard records by running 400 from spot in 70 minutes. Schaefer set a record for a high run, broke Welker Cochran's mark of 334 made in the 1921 tournament here, and broke the average record with 400 in one inning.

DELANEY READY TO BATTLE STRIBLING

Milwaukee—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and Young Stribling of Macon, Ga., who meet here Friday night in a ten-round no decision bout, completed their training Thursday. The light heavyweights go in at catchweights and it is said there will be little difference when they weigh in. Delaney is given the edge over his opponent in boxing skill, but when it comes to the rough going Stribling has an edge as he demonstrated in the last meeting between the pair at Benton Harbor, Mich. Delaney was away with the first four rounds, but in the next session a right connected with his chin, and he was unable to make up the ground he lost by the knockdown.

ELKS WHIRLIGIG MEET GROWING MORE POPULAR

With the gradual waning of the bowling season and the consequently dying out of teams, the Elks whirligig tournament is growing more and more popular. It has become a great event with all bowlers of the city eligible, and the alleys are crowded every Saturday afternoon and evening. An entry fee of $1 is charged and entrants may bowl as often as they like but each time with a different partner.

Cream Of College Athletes Clash In Illinois Relays

TWO CONTESTS ON WESTERN PROGRAM

Illinois Meets Iowa and Indiana
Battles Purdue Friday Night

Chicago — Two important Western conference basketball games are on Friday night's schedule, Illinois an Indiana, second and third in the standing, facing Iowa and Purdue, respectively.

Proceeds of the Purdue-Indiana game, estimated at approximately $15,000, will be devoted to suffering from the recent Sullivan, Ind., mine explosion. The funds will be administered through the Red Cross.

The third knockout from their perch at the Big Ten top last week by Indiana, believe they have an advantage over the Iowans, whose mainstays are Janse and Laude, long range artists.

Indiana must win over its neighbor to have much of a chance to win or tie for the championship and going into the fray with no intention of losing.

BASEBALL MEN AWAITING CALL FOR VALLEY MEETING

Menasha — Baseball matters in Fox river valley are at present marling time. Nothing new in the local situation has developed since the meeting ten days ago at Fond du Lac and managers of the baseball associations in the various cities are awaiting the call of a meeting by President E. W. Ehrig of Wisconsin baseball league which is expected to be held within the next few days. An effort is being made to secure the services of M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional baseball leagues, to canvass the situation and as soon as the date of his coming is announced the meeting will be called.

DREAM CLOUDS

Their life had been very happy. Not a cloud had marred it. Then on morning the wife came down to breakfast morose and wretched. She would hardly speak to him.

Finally the young man insisted that he be told why his wife was treating him so badly. She looked up with tears in her eyes, and said—
"John Smith, if I dream again that you kissed another woman I won't speak to you again as long as I live."—London Answers.

Trackmen from All Over Nation Will Compete for Supremacy at Great Carnival

About the biggest athletic jubilee of the entire outdoor season is the university of Illinois relay carnival. It brings together the cream of the college track and field world. From the east, the middle west and various other sections the athletes come to vie for premier honors. In a word, it's pretty close to an all-star cast. And each season usually finds a few new records hung up, some of them world marks, too.

This year's jamboree, which takes place at Urbana, next Saturday, should be no exception to those of other seasons. For it, it stacks up as the most pretentious affair of its kind. All entry records are expected to be smashed with the middle west sending the largest representation in the history of the game.

Individual competition will bring together such universal celebrities as Bud Evans, Illinois, McAndrews, Wisconsin, and Hubbard and Wittman of Michigan in the dashes. In the hurdles will be Larry Snyder and Guthrie, Ohio State's great pair; Keeble, Missouri, and possibly an Kinsey of Illinois. Kinsey is all out from an injury received in football and may not be able to compete.

Then there is the pole vault with Brooker, Michigan, and Brownell, Illinois, renewing an old feud. These vaulters rate as two of the best in the country and their battle for supremacy is always one of the outstanding features of the meet.

The high jump is also certain to mix up some keen competition. Russell of Chicago is especially strong in this event. He has a record of over six feet four inches and many experts are touting him as a second Harold Osborne. DeHart Hubbard sensational Michigan colored ace, will again endeavor to establish a new broad jump record as first-class competitors have also been entered in the shot-put and other individual events.

Much interest will be attached to the various relay encounters. For instance the celebrated Georgetown University quartet, holders of the world's records in the two mile jaunt, both indoor and outdoor, will be on hand with the brilliant Marston winning the way. Georgetown will also enter a mile team. Along with the relay men will come Emerson Norton. He will compete in the all-round championship events. Norton won this classic in 1923, representing University of Kansas.

Pennsylvania will have a one and a half mile relay team and Springfield College comes as another invader from the elite east section. Other schools out for relay honors include Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Chicago and Notre Dame. The Irish will flash Louden and Walsh two foot all stars on their quarters.

Illinois, traditional winners in the four mile affair, will be set to repeat its four victories in as many seasons. It will be led by Captain Miesher, crack middle distance runner. Coach Gill also expects to start a mile and medley outfit.

All in all, the 1925 Illinois relay carnival should outdo any the Chicago institution has staged in previous seasons. And it will be a bit surprising if a few of the present records aren't erased off the boards.

MILWAUKEE FIRST IN STATE TOURNEY

Cream City Keglers Win Team
Event, Doubles and all Events

By Associated Press
Fond du Lac—State bowling championships were determined here Thursday night when the final shift of the 1924 Wisconsin Bowling association tournament crashed the pins for the last time. The bowlers who were on the drives Thursday did not disturb the leaders. Hoyer Recreation, Milwaukee, won the five-man team championship with 2,847, Rejer and Helm, also of Milwaukee, won the first money in the doubles with 1,299. C. Johnson of Stoughton topped the singles with 798 and Jimm Smith of Milwaukee won the all events with 1,930.

During the course tournament the pins fell hard and the best of the state were contended to accept low ed marks than are usually recorded in a state tournament.

HOW GREAT WE ARE
On the boat train a visitor from the United States was comparing the extensive railways of America with the short system of the United Kingdom.

"Say," he said, "I can board the cars in my home state of Kentucky at seven in the morning, I can travel all that day and all that night, and at eight the next morning I am still in Kentucky. I guess the Old Country can't show anything like that."
"Ah!" replied a voice from behind a paper, "We have got trains like that—but we don't boast about them."—London Tit-Bits.

An old document recently found at Belgrade says that the first successful glider flight was made at Foca, Belgium, in 1549.

As Good As Gold And As Sure As Diamonds

The A-B-C Classified Columns of the Post-Crescent are loaded down with golden opportunities. And there is not a questionable one among the lot. The Post-Crescent censors the offers which are brought to its classified department and does not accept anything of a doubtful nature.

And there are other advantages to the classified section. There is—for instance—the matter of speedy finding. That's a mighty important point—and it hinges upon those little alphabetical and numerical "guides" which you see all the way up and down the classified columns.

When you want anything at all—you can get it with 1-2-3 directness and A-B-C simplicity from the classified section. The A-B-C Classified Section has reached the peak of opportunity possibilities.

OFFER 200 PRIZES IN RADIO CONTEST

Fans May Hear Program Tonight Which Will Boost
City of Trenton, N. J.

Radio fans who tune in on station WLIT (formerly WDAR) from 8 to 10 o'clock Friday evening may have a chance to win some of the 200 prizes totaling $1,500 offered in a limerick contest by the chamber of commerce of Trenton, N. J. The program will be broadcasted at Philadelphia on a wave length of 335 meters.

Details of the contest have been received by the chamber of commerce here. The prizes will consist of a large number of articles made in Trenton ranging from a pair of rubber heels to a set of chinaware. Thirty dollars in cash prizes also will be given.

Station WLIT will broadcast four lines of a group of limericks and the fifth line is to be supplied by the listeners. They are to send the lines by telegraph at once and the winners will be picked before the station signs off for the night.

The limerick contest will be only one feature, however. An excellent musical program is to be broadcasted by Trenton talent, including songs by the male chorus of Trenton Chamber of Commerce, harp solos, soprano solos and numbers by the Schubert mixed quartet. Greetings from New Jersey's capital also will be extended by Dr. William Scammell, president of Trenton Chamber of Commerce.

The object of the program is to do some national boosting for the city of Trenton.

PROF. KEYES WILL TALK TO CHICAGO GRADUATES

All former students of the University of Chicago and Rush Medical School are invited to attend a meeting at 6:30 Saturday evening, Feb. 25, at Hotel Alhambra, Oshkosh. Prof. Preston Keyes, noted pathologist and professor of preventive medicine at the university, will be the principal speaker. Miss Laura M. Johnston, Chicago alumna, is head of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Wisconsin's beauties triumph over all competitors even over radio. Miss Phyllis Seale of Galesville, received the largest number of votes cast by telegraph from all parts of the country in the second annual Crosby Doll Varden Beauty Contest and the title of "Radio Beauty for 1935" has been awarded to her, with the $300 as first prize. Judge J. H. Woeste described the girls to the radio audience from WLW Saturday, Feb. 14, and when the voting closed Miss Seale held a lead of some 100 votes over her nearest rival. She defeated beauties from Kentucky, Ohio, New York and Tennessee.

WGY's program again leads the rest for Friday evening. At 7 o'clock the Bell Record orchestra, one of the best ever heard from WGY takes the air; at 8 a group of old-time favorites by Mary Zoller, one of the country's leading xylophone artists and the well-known WGY orchestra, provides the entertainment; the closing program at 9:30 brings still more famous talent when the Edison Club Quartet, Rice String Quartet and the American Trio, broadcast from WGY.

An excellent program by the Astor Coffee orchestra consisting of both classical and popular music will be heard from WCAP, WOO, WGR, WJAR and WDAF, Friday night.
